Today

One More Day
Welcome Merger
Two Smiled, One Yawned
The Little, and the Big

By Arthur Brisbane

ONE DAY LEFT of this year, then no more 1930. Much has been done, in one day. In one day Newton got the idea on which he based his formula of the law of gravitation, that still controls the stars in their courses, Einstein notwithstanding.

In one hour Mirabeau made his speech in the Salle du Jeu des Plumes, and in another hour Camille Desmoulins made his speech in the Palais Royal. Those two speeches probably made the French Revolution a great blessing to the human race. Everything is done by thinking, and the last day of a year is a good thinking day.

President Hoover announces plans for merging four Eastern railroad systems, to save unnecessary overhead, and stop waste.

Public ownership of railroads that works admirably in Canada and elsewhere being out of the question here, the merger is good news.

Railroad stocks rose briskly in Wall Street after the announcement, indicating what high finance thinks of it.

This most wasteful of countries wastes in industrial enterprises enough to finance the other countries of the world.

In oil, for instance, foolish, unrestricted, wasteful drilling has cost the country more in the last few years than the ten billion dollars sent to Europe.

And if anybody suggests permitting economy through consolidation, he is told that the fossilized Sherman act will put him in jail.

Yesterday New Jersey killed three young men in the electric chair. Two went to death smiling, one yawned, affecting boredom.

Full details are printed and youthful criminals say: "It's great to die game and it's all over in a second." Capital punishment does not discourage murder.

If the criminal knew that his crime meant imprisonment for life, at hard labor, with no faintest hope of reprieve, he would not say: "It's all over in a second."

Scientists gathered in Cleveland and elsewhere continue to amaze you. Dean Lipman of the University of California proves that life "can remain dormant for millions of years." Living organisms have been taken from deep coal mines in Wales and Pennsylvania. With no food, their life had continued through millions of years.

Life could come to this planet from the outside universe, at the proper time, even though it had a long way to come.

A French scientist, Professor Thevenin, writing in the American Weekly, says microbes, which were the first living things on earth, would also be the last.

When the earth grows cold and the last man dies, the microbes will be here to see him die, and hasten his end.

Johns Hopkins University proves by Dr. Barnett Cohen, of the medical school, that bacteria of which thousands might be unnoticed in a corner of your eye, can develop little electric batteries of their own.

Two spoonfuls of such bacteria, in the cells of a battery can send one one-hundred thousandth of an ampere a minute through 300 ohms of resistance.

It's a remarkable universe, whether you consider things so small that the telescope does not show them, or things a million times as big as our sun, which in turn is a million times as big as our earth.

You know that matter is made of molecules, molecules of atoms, each atom a little solar system with electrons revolving around a central nucleus.

How big is an electron?

Dr. Stebbins, of the University of Wisconsin, gives you an idea of their "bigness" by telling you that the current of a 100 watt incadescent lamp consists of about 10,000,000,000,000,000,000 a second.

Albert Lasker, enjoying sunshine on Miami Beach, tells his friends "the country is suffering from over prediction." This change from the worn out "over production" explanation is said to have been invented by Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, editor of the Washington Herald.

Some predictions are becom-

20 FAMILIES ROUTED BY FLAMES

Two Firemen Are Rescued at Fire in a Springfield Apartment Block

Springfield, Dec. 31—Fire drove 20 families from the four-story brick and stone apartment block at Oak and State sts. today and caused damage estimated at $35,000. All the downtown apparatus was called to the scene.

Two firemen were rescued by means of a ladder after they had been cut off by flames on the second floor.

The fire started in the basement and spread rapidly through the air shafts. Tenants on the first floor spread the warning and all the occupants, including four physicians who have offices in the building, got out without assistance.

Although the flames were confined to one side of the block which faces on both streets, there was considerable smoke and water damage throughout the structure.

John W. Martyn to Be Chief War Clerk

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—Appointment of John W. Martyn of Milton, Mass., as administrative assistant and chief clerk of the War Department, effective Jan. 2, was announced today by Secretary Hurley. Martyn will succeed John C. Scofield, who retired today after more than 46 years of service in the government. Martyn, executive assistant to the Secretary of War, entered the service as secretary to John W. Weeks in 1921.

Snow Flurries May Usher in New Year

New Year's may be ushered in with snow flurries—but the weather man couldn't tell about it definitely today. For the celebration period tonight it will be slightly warmer, but tomorrow will be cold.

The temperature at 9 a. m. today was 26, the same as yesterday's minimum. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 38.

Girl Taking Bar Test Collapses

While taking the oral test for admittance to the bar, Miss Regina O'Connell, 23, of 24 Fairmount st., Marlboro, collapsed at English high school today and was taken to City Hospital for treatment for syncope, or fluttering of the heart. Her parents were notified. Miss O'Connell had passed the written bar examinations.

Shot to Death

MRS. ALICE K. ENGSTRON, Worcester fireman's wife, who was shot to death by rejected suitor who then killed himself.

TWO DEAD IN LOVE QUARREL

Worcester, Dec. 31—Police today wrote "murder and suicide" as the solution of the shooting early this morning of Mrs. Alice K. Engstrom, 34, of 14 Clive st., and her spurned admirer, Charles Athanas, alias Charlie Yapa, 35, of 202 Southbridge st., in the Engstrom home.

Investigation revealed that jealousy drove Athanas to shoot the woman and then send a bullet into his own brain.

Police at first thought the case a double murder because of the story of Mrs. Engstrom's daughter, Marion, 15. The girl mentioned another man whose name figured in a conversation between her mother and Athanas. He was believed to be connected with the shooting but later events disproved this.

Some time after the finding of the bodies, police located George Morrow, a restaurant owner and intimate friend of Athanas. He said that for the past month Athanas had been moody and morose and had said several times he was going to "get" Mrs. Engstrom because she loved somebody else.

The case was solved by connecting his evidence with the daughter's story. She called police and also her father, Axel Engstrom, a fireman, connected with Hose 9, Tatnuck.

Bank Tricked of $183; Man Is Held

Edward Briere, 36, of Lowell, was held in $5000 for the grand jury today in municipal court, charged with larceny and attempted larceny. Briere was arrested by Police Inspectors Ring and Towle on charges of larceny of $183 by depositing a check for $323 at the Fish Pier branch of the Federal National Bank and withdrawing the amount charged at the East Boston branch by exhibiting a bankbook.

Treasury Dept. to Shift Dry Agents

Providence, Dec. 31 (AP)—Beginning Friday, all Treasury Department agents in Rhode Island, Connecticut who have been engaged in checking up on physicians, druggists and industrial plants holding federal permits to dispense, sell or use alcohol in any form will undergo shakeups every two months for the "good of the service," it was learned here today.

WET LID IS OFF FOR NEW YEAR CELEBRATION

Police and Federals Apparently Will Not Curb Orderly Drinking

Boston police will make no efforts to interrupt orderly imbibing of intoxicants at New Year's Eve festivities, it was indicated at police headquarters today.

The largest New Year's Eve police detail ever—160 men—was given its instructions this morning and although they [illegible] minutes no orders relating [illegible] were issued. The common interpretation of this silence was that it gave consent.

Two score federal prohibition agents, many arrayed in dress clothes and accompanied by women, will make a round of the festive boards but will conduct no hip-slapping campaign nor will they seize displayed liquor from guests or bother the guests in any way.

AFTER BIG GAME.

Their efforts, Federal Prohibition Director Lewis announced, will be directed wholly toward "commercialized alcohol traffic." If they see liquor openly distributed by guests in large quantities they will warn the proprietor of the establishment that it must cease.

"Of course it would be impossible to seize every bottle of liquor," said Director Lewis, somewhat mournfully, to be sure.

Guarding the safety of guests in crowded night clubs, hotels and restaurants, and the motorist and pedestrian from the drunken driver and speeder will be the chief aims of the police, the federal agents and motor vehicle inspectors.

POLICE IN 8 SQUADS

Whether Atty.-Gen. Warner's ruling that police had no power to arrest for certain liquor law violation without a warrant had any effect upon the apparent decision of Bos-

Legge Sees Doom of Short Selling

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—The opinion that short selling on grain exchanges ultimately will be eliminated was expressed today by Chairman Legge of the Farm Board.

In response to questions, the chairman made clear he favored a restriction of short selling rather than its prohibition. On a basis of eliminated short selling, he said, probably would result in trading of about four times the actual grain handled instead of 20 times.

JOFFRE LAPSES INTO STATE OF COMA AGAIN

Doctors Say Life Is Hanging by Thread After a Heart Attack During Night

Paris, Dec. 31 (AP)—Marshal Joffre's phenomenal vitality, which carried him into this last day of the year despite a heart attack which threatened to end his gallant battle last night, appeared to be exhausting itself this afternoon. At 1 o'clock he sank into a state of semi-consciousness.

Today messages of condolence, coming from all over the world, brought the hopes of two Americans for his recovery. Chancellor Elmer E. Brown of New York university and Frank Lin Q. Brown, president of the Army and Navy club of the United States, sent the cablegrams.

CONDITION FEEBLE.

At 9:15 a. m. today Dr. Boulin told newspapermen that Marshal Joffre had suffered a heart attack during the night which had been very disquieting.

The patient was described as extremely feeble this morning, although he had drunk a glass of milk without hesitation. He still talked feebly and remained conscious.

An official statement at 7 a. m. today said:

"Notwithstanding a few respiratory spasms the night was calm. The patient, who remains conscious, is visibly weakening. The pulse is increasingly rapid and the tension is falling.

(Signed) "Prof. Leriche, Drs. Boulin and Fontaine."

HOPE IS FADING.

For several hours the marshal remained only half conscious, then he awoke and asked for a drink of water. He took the cup in his own hand and drank its contents.

At 3 o'clock another doctors' bulletin said there had been no improvement and that there was little hope.

"The patient's condition is stationary," the bulletin said, "although there occurred a loss of consciousness this morning leaving the pulse weak with intermittent interruptions. At present he sleeps in a deep calm."

Gilbert to Join Morgan

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—A new rumor that S. Parker Gilbert will become associated with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. after the first of the year was circulated today.

Since he completed his work as agent-general for reparations several months ago, he has declined to commen ton his plans.

Mrs. Peabody Plans to Greet New Year in Prayer

Meditation and prayer will constitute the New Year's Eve celebration of Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, ardent "dry," formerly of Beverly, who deserted Massachusetts for Florida in protest against repeal of the "Baby Volstead" act.

She sent the following telegram to the Boston Evening American today from Orlando, Fla., where she is living:

"From my Florida home, with moonlight and mocking birds in oaks and orange trees, and in the peace of a well-ordered city, I write the message you request.

"I shall spend my New Year's Eve in meditation and prayer, remembering especially the State I have loved 40 years, asking that those who control her affairs may know the will of God and may re-assert their loyalty to Him and to the Constitution of the United States, which safeguards our nation."

CROWDS STORM AUTO REGISTRY

Thousands stormed the motor vehicle registry at Commonwealth Pier today to get their 1931 number plates and 12 State police officers were required to handle the throng. Chief Clerk Charles Gilley estimated that 13,000 registrations would be issued before the day was over.

A Political Chameleon Is Exactly What Sen. Norris Is NOT

THE difference between a politician and a statesman is that a politician is true to his party and a statesman is true to his principles.

That is an excellent motto for a politician.

But Senator Norris is a statesman. He has propounded as many sound and progressive policies as any senator in the history of the Congress. He has consecrated his life to his principles.

He cannot compromise them for political advantage.

He cannot abandon them for party fealty.

He cannot shift them for party expediency.

Senator Norris' principles are good Republican principles—the kind of principles which a good Republican like Lincoln might maintain and did maintain.

Senator Norris actually BELIEVES in government of the people, by the people and for the people.

IF the Republican party prefers to commit itself for purely financial reasons to a government of the power trust, by the power trust and for the power trust, or to a government of the international bankers, by the international bankers and for the international bankers, Senator Norris does not feel called upon to follow the Republican party into this betrayal of ITS principles and HIS.

That is "statesmanship" and moreover it may turn out to be very sound politics, too.

Perhaps the people think more of principles than they do of parties.

Perhaps the people think more of a sincere, conscientious public servant like Senator Norris than they do of the slavish party henchmen who are willing to sacrifice their principles in the squalid hope of holding onto their jobs.

Certainly the people of Nebraska, who are a pretty intelligent lot of good Americans, thought more of Senator Norris than they did of the skulking partisan assassins who were using power trust contributions in the effort to destroy the senator.

THE people of Nebraska thought Senator Norris was a good Republican.

The people of Nebraska thought Senator Norris was a faithful public servant.

The people of Nebraska approved of Senator Norris' principles and of his devotion to "principle" and after all, this is a representative government, and it is the people of Nebraska whom Senator Norris is representing.

Anyhow, there in the Senate of the United States, representing the people of Nebraska, sits Senator Norris.

And he is there not because he is a "political chameleon," but because he is NOT a "political chameleon."

He does NOT change his principles with every shift of political wind or every turn of party tide.

SENTENCED IN 1923 FOR KILLING IN 1917

Fight of West End Minister and Others Who Doubted Guilt Rewarded by Allen

George Rollins of Dorchester, life prisoner at Charlestown state prison for the murder of Ordway R. Hall, Dorchester chain store manager, in 1917, was pardoned today by Governor Allen.

A hearing was held on his petition for a pardon a month ago at which a score of witnesses were called.

The pardon ends a fight of years, waged principally by a West End minister, who has always believed George Rollins innocent.

BROTHER A LIFER

Rollins' brother, Charles, is also serving a life sentence at the prison for another chain store killing in Roxbury.

FAVORED BY O'BRIEN

George was convicted in 1923, six years after the murder, but a wave of doubt always hung over the decision with witnesses denying testimony that they gave at the original trial.

At the last hearing a month ago, former Dist.-Atty. Thomas C. O'Brien, who convicted him, was one of those who appeared and testified that there was a doubt as to Rollins' guilt.

Arthur Guy Named Bank Commissioner

Arthur Guy of Framingham, acting bank commissioner, today was appointed bank commissioner by Gov. Allen to fill the unexpired term of Roy A. Hovey, who resigned.

Guy was appointed first deputy in October, 1928, and acted as commissioner since the resignation of Hovey last month to assume a position with a Wakefield bank.

He first became connected with the banking department in 1913 as an examiner and at one time served as director of the division of savings banks. Gov. Allen also appointed Stephen Rushmere of Newton to the board of registration in medicine to succeed Horace D. Arnold, resigned.

White House Aide's Death Due to Poison

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—Lieut. Bruce Settle, White House naval aide, was held today by city officials to have died from the effects n fpoison. # COUZENS CALLS HOOVER'S ACTION IN RAIL MERGER UNETHICAL

SENATOR IS BLUNT IN CRITICISM

Declares Nothing Should Be Done Until the Congress Says "Go Ahead!"

Washington, Dec. 31 (INS)—President Hoover's endorsement of the four-system railroad consolidation in the East brought sharp criticism today from Senator Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

Couzens bluntly characterized the President's action as "unethical."

"While I hesitate to criticize the ethics of the President of the United States, the issuance of this statement (praising the plan) by him, in my judgment, is most unethical," Couzens said.

"The Senate on May 21, 1930, adopted resolution to suspend all railroad consolidation under certain conditions by a vote of 46 to 27, with 23 not voting.

INQUIRY BEING MADE

"This resolution went to the House, where it was reported by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce in amended form, and is now on the House calendar.

"This, in my judgment, indicated the Congress was not in favor of proceeding with further consolidations until Congress has had an opportunity to make further investigation.

"A confirmation of this view is established by the fact that on June 16, 1930, the Senate passed a resolution authorizing the committee on Interstate Commerce to make an investigation of what had been accomplished by consolidations, and to make a report to the Senate. The committee has since then been making a careful inquiry based on the resolution.

"A tentative report will be ready to submit to the committee within a few weeks. Until that report is made and studied, there will be no opportunity to discuss it.

MERITS OF THE PLAN

"The merits of the proposed consolidation cannot be passed upon because the plan has not been submitted to the public or the Interstate Commerce Commission, and until that is done, of course, I will not be in a position to comment on this proposed consolidation.

"In the concluding paragraph of the President's statement he says, 'The plan, of course, must be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission, who have the independent duty to determine if it meets every requirement of public interest.'

"In view of the President's support of the plan, it is questionable whether the 'independent duty' of the commission can be ascertained.

"Everyone knows the power and influence of presidential approval, and everyone knows that these commissioners owe their position to the President, and whil eit is the duty of the Senate to confirm these appointments, no name can get to the Senate without first having been selected by the President."

Officer's Memory Traps Old Fugitive

Traffic Officer Ambrose T. Forde, the tall Texan, who stands guard at St. James ave. and Berkeley st., near police headquarters, has a good memory for faces, and as a result Lowell C. Hayden, 45, of Warrenton st., South End, was under arrest at Milk st. station today on charges of larceny that date back to last June.

Forde had remembered the face ever since a warrant was issued for Hayden's arrest six months ago. Yesterday he saw him near his traffic post and brought him to headquarters. He was then turned over to the police at Milk st.

Springfield Woman Is Dead in Athens

Springfield, Dec. 31 (AP)—Word was received today of the death in Athens of Miss Elizabeth H. Morton, 74, member of an old and prominent Springfield family. She was the granddaughter of George Ashmun, who presided at the national convention that nominated Lincoln for his first term as President.

Her father, James H. Morton, was long a police court judge here, and an uncle was Chief Justice Marcus Morton of the State Supreme Court. Miss Morton was traveling with relatives.

Patrolman Battles 3; Captures One

In a fistic battle with three youths today, Patrolman Harold Griffin of City Sq. Station arrested one of them and learned enough about the other two to lead him to believe he can find them. The arrested youth is Charles Chase, 24, of Seaver st., Charlestown, who required treatment at Haymarket Relief hospital after the battle.

Griffin was called to a lodging house on Carver st., near the Somerville line, by the landlady, who complained of the behavior of the three youths.

MINORITIES OF INDIA ASK AID

London, Dec. 31 (AP)—Demands of the smaller minorities came up for discussion at the Indian Round Table conference today and all of them asked that safeguards for their benefit be incorporated in the new constitution of federalized India.

The spokesman for the Indian Roman Catholics, who number nearly half of the 2,750,000 Christians in the country, urged that separate electorates be established for the minorities as their only means of protection under India's complex social system. Other minor communities, such as the Parsees, who number 88,000, but wield great influence, the Anglo-Indians or Eurasians and the British community in India urge special safeguards for their interests.

KIDNAP BANDIT GETS 6 MONTHS

Bernard King, 24, of Butler st., Dorchester, who told police he had been held up at gunpoint and forced to drive to New York in his employer's car, was held in $10,000 for the grand jury today when arraigned in Quincy court.

King pleaded not guilty to stealing the car of Mrs. Mary King of Russell st., Milton. He said the kidnapers had committed several holdups in New York after arriving there in the King car.

Arraigned with King was Thomas Moneypenny, 18, of 80 h st., New York, declared by King to be one of the banditts and who returned withh King to Boston.

Moneypenny was held in $7500 for the grand jury on a charge of robbery while armed and was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction on a charge of carrying a loaded revolver.

Political Chameleon Exactly What Senator Norris Is Not

no matter what hue or shade of principle or lack of principle his party may take on.

He is NOT like the political chameleon who went pink when his party went pink, and went blue when his party went blue, and went yellow when his party went yellow, and finally got on a Scotch plaid of contradiction and inconsistency and "busted."

SENATOR NORRIS emphatically has NOT "busted."

He has stood steadfastly by his opinions.

He thought Mr. Hoover might not make a very popular president.

WELL!

He thought Mr. Hoover might still be a Wilson Democrat.

WELL!

He thought that Mr. Hoover had lived so long in foreign countries that he might favor foreign entanglements.

WELL!

He thought that the voters ought to have some show for their white alley, and that the government ought not to be run entirely in the interest of the power trust and the international bankers.

WELL!

There are a whole lot of us plain American citizens who agree with Senator Norris and who are glad that we still have some STATESMEN who are NOT political chameleons.

Burmese Insurgents Blow Up R. R. Bridge

Rangoon, Burma, Dec. 31 (AP)—Natives from Tharawaddy, eluding British and Punjabi troops, executed a bold sortie within 75 miles of Rangoon and bombed a bridge damaging it so as to halt train service. A Punjabi detachment engaged a small body of insurgents today at Sitkwin, 13 miles from Tharwaddy, and retired after the rebels had killed three. Shortly afterward the natives looted a government forest camp at Okkan.

U. S. MOVES FOR DRY LAW COURT TEST JAN. 12

Appeal From Clark Ruling to Be Speeded in the Supreme Tribunal

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—Seeking to end uncertainty regarding validity of the Eighteenth Amendment, the Justice Department had before the Supreme Court today a request that an early hearing be given its appeal from the decision of Judge Clark of New Jersey.

With the request was a brief setting forth concisely the Government's disagreement with Clark's conclusion that the prohibition amendment was invalid because ratified by state legislatures rather than constitutional conventions. Solicitor-General Thatcher announced himself ready to argue the case at any time.

U. S. ARGUMENT.

Briefly, the Government's argument was that the language of the Constitution left no room for the construction given by Judge Clark; that the Supreme Court had so held already.

Officials were of opinion the Supreme Court would set a date for the argument on its next opinion day, January 12. The court at present is in recess until next Monday. It will recess again on January 26 until February 24, and the Government's representatives are hopeful the case will be heard before that.

THATCHER STATEMENT.

Thatcher said in the request for early hearing:

"The decision (by Judge Clark) has received wide publicity and has produced uncertainty regarding the validity of the prohibition laws which, unless promptly settled by this court, is likely to encourage disregard for those laws and will hamper the Government in their enforcement."

A statement issued today by the Congressional Districts Modification League contained the assertion that the collapse of prohibition enforcement is so complete the Government cannot protect the medicinal whiskey in its bonded warehouses, and that this is being sold, cut and adulterated while still under Government seal.

Married in Cemetery

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 31 (AP)—Attracted by the beauties of a funeral chapel in a cemetery here, Ronald Hooper, 24, an organist, and Miss Gladys Leslie, 20, an elocutionist, were married there Monday night. Three hundred guests were present.

PATROLMAN FINNIGAN    THOMAS L. MONEYPENNY

TRAPPED IN DORCHESTER while attempting a holdup, Thomas L. Moneypenny was in Dorchester court today. His arrest resulted from a telephone call to police by Bernard King, 19, of Butler st., Dorchester, who claimed he was kidnaped by Moneypenny and another man while outside the Chilton Club on Dec. 23. Patrolman Finnigan, who captured Moneypenny, is shown taking him to court. (Staff photo.)

Deb Engaged

MISS SNELLING SOON TO WED

An early announcement of the engagement of Miss Ella de Treville Snelling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodman Paul Snelling of Commonwealth ave, and Beverly, and James Simpson, Jr., of Chicago, son of the chairman of the board of Marshall Field & Co., is expected shortly in society circles.

The wedding is expected to take place in Aiken, S. C., in January.

Miss Snelling is one of the best known amateur skaters in Greater Boston and has appeared many times at benefit festivals. She also is a steeplechase enthusiast.

Simpson owns a string of horses and rides them himself, and also has a reputation as a flat race jockey in amateur races.

Last October his wife, Mrs. Alicia Patterson Simpson, daughter of Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago publisher, obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion. They were married in September, 1927.

PAROLED LIFER FREED TODAY

Samuel W. Connors, paroled "lifer" took his first auto ride and saw the changes of 31 years today when he left state prison.

Subject to the restriction that he must go to Nova Scotia and never return to Boston, he is a free man for the first time since May, 1899, when he journeyed to the Charlestown prison from Salem in a police van, horse-drawn.

Today, dressed in new clothes provided by the state, he stepped into a taxicab with Parole Agent William Robinson to go direct to a steamship dock where he boarded a vessel leaving Boston for Halifax at dusk.

His view of the city was a brief one, but even the Elevated structure was new to him, as was the roar of gasoline-driven city traffic. His life sentence, given for attack, was commuted to a 35-year term by Gov. Allen last week so that he could be paroled today.

Former Mayor of Somerville Sick

Charles A Burns, who was mayor of Somerville for three terms, from 1911 to 1913, is critically ill at his home, 27 Lawson rd., Winchester, following a shock, it was learned today. He is a native of Wilton, N. H., and is head of the Union Soapstone Co. of Boston. He was president of the Somerville Board of Aldermen prior to his election as mayor. Seven years ago he moved to Winchester.

$8000 Asked to Aid Adult Blind

An appeal for $8000 for work among the blind was issued today by Judge Frederick P. Cabot, president of the Massachusetts Association for Promoting the Interests of the Adult Blind.

W. L. Stoddard of the Old Colony Trust Co., 17 Court st., was named treasurer of the fund.

INDICTMENT IN BRAMWELL CASE HINTED

Grand Jury May Be Asked to Investigate Manner of Bride's Escape

Worcester, Dec. 31—The Worcester County grand jury which convenes next week may, it is believed, investigate the escape from the Worcester State Hospital of Barbara Buffum Bramwell, the Oxford girl whose supposedly titled bridegroom proved to be only a ship's clerk.

It is understood that if an investigation now being conducted by State Detective Edward J. McCarthy reveals that she was sheltered by persons who know her and knew of her escape, the grand jury may be asked to indict them on that ground.

McCarthy's activities are primarily aimed at finding the missing bride, and he believes clues placing her in New Haven, while at first believed to be a hoax, may prove valuable.

An attachment for $400 on property of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Buffum, her parents, was filed today in the registry of deeds by Almon C Jackson of Oxford, this being the forerunner of a suit, but whether or not it has anything to do with the actions of their daughter is not known.

EINSTEIN HAS FAITH IN YOUTH

He went into childish, ecstatic thrill as he gazed upon the regiment of school children in middies and skirt uniform singing to him from the pier.

"A beautiful illusion," he murmured.

"Ach! He's touched," whispered his wife, the Frau Elsa.

With beaming eyes and tremulous voice the professor turned after watching the band of a hundred musicians and asked:

"Professional?"

"No, school children," several voices replied.

"Ach! Admirable," he murmured.

Then he was asked what he thought of the youth of today, and suggestions that modern youth has become wilder and has more liberties.

He smiled serenely and softly said:

"Nein, youth is always, endlessly the same."

ing quite frank. Newcomb Carlton, for instance, president of the Western Union Telegraph Co., says: "America was financially drunk for eight or 10 years, and we can't expect to get over the headache in a week or a month."

It would be more comprehensive to say that the whole world was drunk, beginning in 1914, spent 250 billions of dollars, more than 20,000,000 lives, and is now beginning to pay the bill.

Two New York boys, 15 and 16 years old, sons of a well known business man, went to a party. Truthful, they told their father where they had been when they came back at five in the morning.

The dance lasted until half past two. Then they went to a speakeasy. And there they stayed until quarter past four, getting home at about five.

Had they had anything to drink? Yes, but not much.

In another case, the hostess of a big party for debutantes provided champagne for the young people, and whiskey for older men that wanted it, in a special room upstairs. That room was soon crowded, the entrance to it blocked by boys in their teens.

Some of the boys being drunk, the hostess locked the whiskey room. These facts are printed to guide those that, hereafter, will write the history of the United States under prohibition.

GOLDENRULE PRACTICE IS KEYNOTE OF NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

CASH PRIZES AWAIT BEST RESOLVES

Many Excellent Plans for 1931 Received; Contest Closing Date Nears

Hail the New Year!

If only a small percentage of the people who have made resolutions to practice the golden rule in 1931 keep their resolutions, the world is going to be a happier place in which to live next year. Literally hundreds have sent in this resolution:

And if all the people who have pledged themselves to buy, to help bring prosperity, keep that resolution, 1931 will be a big business year.

Have you made your resolution for 1931 yet? There is no better time than right now to do it, for your resolution may win fame and money for you.

PRIZES OFFERED

The best original and valuable resolution will be awarded first prize of $25. There are 27 other prizes from $5 to $15.

The judges will be President Frank L. Stearns of Northeastern University, President Daniel Marsh of Boston University and Judge Sadie Lipner Shulman.

In framing your resolution, it is well to remember that these distinguished judges will probably be impressed by the resolution that will bring the greatest benefit to the largest number of people.

Your philosophy of life, embodied in a resolution, may point the way for other people to achieve a happy prosperous 1931. Try it!

Send in your own plan. It will help you and may help others.

HELEN M. HANEY, Randolph: Go forward courageously, with enthusiasm and determination to succeed; believe in yourself. Work hard to achieve, think earnestly and be resourceful. If your old job is no more, react quickly to the demand for your services in another enterprise. Our city and state abounds with opportunities.

J. M. REICHARD, Nashua, N. H.: I resolve to live up to the Golden Rule and love my neighbor as myself so this world may be a little brighter and the Christmas spirit may live 365 days rather than for one day.

CHARLES H. SEARS, Boston: There is but one word in the English language known to me, encompassing every right action of man to himself, his neighbor and his God. That is honesty, which involves industry, employment, equality and justice. Therefore, I pledge myself and my best efforts to be honest during the year 1931.

MRS. LEO MONAHAN, Saxonville: I resolve to display in all things, during the entire year of 1931, the same courageous patient, honest spirit that my pilgrim ancestors displayed in 1630.

JOHN B. CURTIS, Boston: My resolution for next year is to study the unemployment problem. As a solution, I suggest shortening the hours of labor and increasing wages. This plan, if adopted, would increase the buying power and accomplish industrial stability and the solution of the unemployment problem.

RALPH M. SARGENT, Boston: I resolve to approach each problem of the New Year in a spirit of honesty; thereby sowing the seed of righteous accomplishment which reaps its own reward.

Many others, equally good, reflect the hope and good will of the people contributing them. It's a good world when you hear the voice of the people in such a contest as this. Get into it NOW. The contest closes January 2.

Address your resolution to the Resolution Editor, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston.

Mayor Greets Historians

REV. PETER GUILDAY MAYOR CURLEY

Chief Justice Hall of Superior Court was expected to name this evening the judge who will preside at the trial of Oliver B. Garrett, which opens Monday.

There was a possibility that a justice whose name has not heretofore been mentioned in connection with the case would be appointed to hear, with jury, the charges of conspiracy and extortion against the former police liquor raider, his wife and Miss Lillian V. Hatch.

It was not even considered improbable the chief justice might decide to assign the case for trial in his session of the court.

Meanwhile, both Dist. Atty. William J. Foley and Atty. Herbert F. Callahan, counsel for the three defendants, have announced that they are prepared to go on with the trial Jan. 6.

The names of 108 residents of Boston, Revere and Chelsea have been picked from the jury list and the formality of a police checkup of the jurors has been completed.

It became known today that not more than 65 spectators will be admitted to the courtroom when the trial begins, because of the large number of witnesses.

Wreck of Boston Schooner Sighted

The wreck of the Boston fishing schooner Josephine De Costa, one-time Gloucester racer, was reported today off Seal Island, N. B., near the spot where she was deserted by her captain and 22 men more than a year ago.

Capt. Dowell Cook of the schooner Eddie and Ida, out of St. John, N. B., reported her. Capt. Stilson Hipson and 22 men of the De Costa made their way in dories to Seal Island and were picked up the next day after the wreck. The vessel was owned by O'Hara Bros and had 20,000 pounds of fish aboard when she was wrecked.

HAYES TO HEAD HISTORIANS

Carlton J. H. Hayes, Ph.D., professor of history at Columbia University, is the new president of the American Catholic Historical Association, it was announced today at the convention in the Copley-Plaza.

James F. Kenney, Ph.D., director of historical research and publicity of the Public Archives of Canada, has been named vice-president.

In making the announcements Dr. Peter Guilday, secretary of the committee on publications, said that the association had accepted the invitation of the University of Minnesota to hold the 1931 convention at Minneapolis.

In presenting the gavel, the mayor paid a touching tribute to Marshall Joffre, who now is waging his biggest battle that against death declaring that when Marshall Joffre was in Boston in 1917 with the French War Commission, the gavel was used by the commission at its meetings.

Each book he read, he said, painted the Puritans in a darker hue.

"So in presenting this gavel," he said, "I wish you success and know that it will be used for the gathering of truth of your Catholic history."

Fall River Youths Held in N. Y. Holdup

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—The flying fists of a tailor ended the crime careers of two youths from Fall River, Mass., and landed them in the police lineup today. ## RE-ELECTION OF G.O.P. CHAIRMAN IS PREDICTED

Republican Club Effort to Defeat Him Appears to Be Doomed to Failure

A defeat for the executive committee of the Republican Club of Massachusetts in its efforts to prevent the re-election of Amos L. Taylor, Belmont banker, as chairman of the Republican State Committee January 8 was predicted today in G. O. P. circles.

It was pointed out that all but 16 of the 80 odd members of the retiring state committee were re-elected and will serve on the new committee. These members only recently passed a resolution endorsing Taylor's administration. The refusal of Mrs. William Lowell Putnam to vote "yes" on the resolution prevented the vote from being unanimous.

MACHINE EFFICIENT

It is understood that the action of the Republican Club in passing a resolution yesterday for a housecleaning of the State committee will have but little effect in view of Taylor's expressed wish to be re-elected.

Under the Taylor regime, many prominent members of the party hold, the Republican machine has been brought up to a high state of efficiency, notwithstanding the defeat of the party's candidates for Governor and United States Senator. They look upon the Republican Club action in the light of a movement to oust the drys from important places in the party council.

NICHOLS TARGET, TOO

It is also felt that an attempt is being made to punish Executive Secretary Charles Nichols of the committee for alleged support of William M. Butler in the primary fight against Eben S. Draper.

By a curious coincidence, the Democratic State Committee is also scheduled to hold its organization meeting and election on the same day as the Republicans hold theirs.

While there have been some grumblings over the administration of Frank J. Donahue as chairman of the Democratic State Committee, his re-election is looked for without any sizable opposition.

Houses Crash in Italian Quake

A BAKERY TRUCK and a gravel truck came to a sudden stop at the corner of Dartmouth st. and Columbus ave. when they both tried to occupy the same place at the same time. An electric light pole on the corner was snapped off and crashed through a window.

POLE SNAPS IN TRUCK CRASH

A plate glass window and an electric light pole met defeat at Columbus ave. and Dartmouth st. today when the pole was snapped off by a collision with two trucks and crashed through the window.

John F. Crohan of Milton st., Dorchester, was driver of a bakery truck and Julian Bell of Spencer ave., Chelsea, was driving a five-ton truck and crashed on the corner, according to police.

Both drivers were shaken up, but did not require treatment.

Music Stars Hiss Critics Who Play to Aid Jobless

New York, Dec. 31 (AP)—The music critics of New York took their reputations in their hands last night and appeared as performers in a concert to raise money for unemployed musicians.

A delighted audience of opera stars and concert artists had the time of their lives hissing the men who have spoiled more than one breakfast for many of them.

Maria Jeritza had bought the whole front row and sat in the center of it, holding Billy Guard's false whiskers while he played on his celebrated flute.

USHERS ALL STARS

Mischa Levitzky, pianist, was head usher, and his assistants were all stars of opera and concert.

Mr. Guard prefaced his performance with an appeal to the audience to treat him kindly because, he said:

"You're going to hear something perfectly dreadful."

Samuel Chotzinoff of the World and Jerome Bohm of the Herald-Tribune played Brahms' variation on a theme by Haydn for two pianos.

The brothers Leibling, Leonard of the American, whose ability to play the Hungarian rhapsody on the piano cost his father $10,000, and James of the Musical Courier, who essays the cello, played a Rubenstein sonata.

SINGS FROM "NEURALGIA"

Sigmund Spaeth, critic and lecturer, played and sang the themes of "the great American opera" entitled "Neuralgia." Julian Seaman of the World and F. D. Perkins of the Herald-Tribune presented a psychic sonata for piano and mouth-organ by that celebrated modern composer, "Vladimir Poundevitch Offpitchsky."

At the close of the program, cartoons of several of the critics and celebrities in the audience were auctioned off. Jeritza's brought the highest price. Oscar Straus, composer of "The Chocolate Soldier," paid $50 for it.

The merger involves transfer and reinsurance by North Dakota Corporation of $3,500,000 insurance now in force in the eastern organization.

POLICE PUSH WAR ON RUM

Atty.-Gen. Warner's opinion that the police must have warrants to make arrests in liquor cases is not held in very high esteem by Boston police officials and will not be respected by them unless the Supreme Court upholds it.

That, in view of Supt. Crowley's openly expressed disagreement yesterday, was the conclusion to be drawn today from enigmatical statements issued by Commissioner Hultman and his legal advisor, Assistant Corporation Counsel Schwartz.

Boston police evidently are going to continue to make arrests without warrant, for keeping and exposing.

"I have not as yet read the opinion of the attorney-general," said the police commissioner. "I have merely read the newspaper report of what that opinion contains. I have no comment whatsoever to make regarding the attorney-general's opinion.

"The police department will continue to function in liquor cases in full accord and strict compliance with the existing laws. I have fully advised myself as to just what the legal authority of the police is in connection with prosecutions under the laws as they exist today."

From Schwartz:

"I have discussed the matter with the police commissioner and corporation counsel and the statement of the police commissioner fully states the entire situation."

Quake, Tidal Wave Sweep Australasia

DIPHTHERIA TO BE FOUGHT BY RADIO WAVES

Bacteriologists Find Action of Short Impulses Diminishes the Strength of Toxin

Short radio waves were revealed today as weapons with which diphtheria can be attacked. Bacteriologists, in annual meeting at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, heard about it from the discoverers, Waclaw T. Szymanowski and Robert Alan Hicks of Western Pennsylvania Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Another announcement of great importance was made by Dr. H. W. Cromwell of Indianapolis who said that experiments conducted over two years point to a possible cure for hayfever sufferers, of whom there are 1,000,000 in this country.

LESSENS STRENGTH

"Highly potent diphtheria toxin is diminished in strength by the action of short electric waves, 1.9 meters, at a frequency of 158,000,000 cycles per second, and 3.76 meters at 80,000,000 cycles," declared the Pittsburgh doctors.

They explained that their discoveries in the laboratory point rather to possible preventive measures than to actual use of radio on diphtheria patients, but preventive use of the waves is yet to be developed.

In their experiments they passed the waves through a film of diphtheria toxin which was placed in a gap between two condenser plates.

TRIED ON PNEUMONIA

The radio waves were also tried on species of pneumonia bacteria but without positive results. They also experimented with sterilization of milk and protection of animals from streptococcal infection, but without result.

The hay fever experiments, conducted by Dr. Cromwell with the assistance of Dr. Marjorie B. Morse, were performed on 200 rabbits and with the use of various pollen extracts. In another year, Dr. Cromwell believes, results will be obtained which will be of great benefit to sufferers from this ailment, his hope being to find methods of making them insensitive to the irritating pollens.

The marriage took place several months ago. The facts were made public yesterday.

The Twitching Midnight Hour

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Drinking that holiday liquor will give you the longest holiday you ever got.

You can get all you want. The only thing secret about bootleg booze is the formula.

In mud-Victorian times today was always egg-nog day. Not the kind of eggs the government is dropping into its official nog. And the old-timers used to prefer their garlic hanging on the attic rafters.

But we defy the government to make the stuff taste any worse.

In fact, it is liable to discover that its bad egglets are giving holiday rum a new, racy tang much prized and appreciated in the suburban, horsey set.

Personally, we don't care to take ether with the New Year like an operation.

But the habit has spread from coast to coast. It's no local anesthetic.

The only thing that worries us is that the Senate wants to adjourn and some fools are trying to stop 'em.

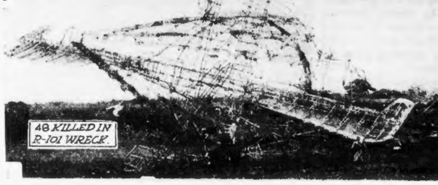
Panoramic View of Some of the News High Spots of 1930—Peace and Disaster Mingled

KING CAROL RETURNS TO HIS THRONE.

PRESIDENT HOOVER SIGNS LONDON NAVAL TREATY.

HEIR BORN TO LINDBERGHS.



YOU READ ABOUT these in 1930. Although kings appear to be losing popularity in Europe, one of them literally flew to his throne in 1930. He is King Carol II, of Rumania, shown here at left, with his brother, Prince Nicholas. Another step towards world peace was taken when the London Naval Treaty was ratified by United States, England and Japan. Photo shows President Herbert Hoover signing the pact in the White House, in July. On June 22, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Augustus Lindbergh. The wreck of the British dirigible R-101 in France, with a loss of 48 lives, was the major disaster of 1930. A sled found in the Arctic regions, was the only thing remaining to tell the tale of the all-but-forgotten expedition of Salomon August Andree and his two companions. They had been dead for 33 years. Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, returned to Boston after his journey to the South Pole. This was the first time an airplane had ever flown over the South Pole. # HOLIDAY DINNER FOR PRISONERS

One of the features of New Year's Day at State Prison will be the serving of a whole mince pie to every one of the 921 inmates.

This will be their dessert to top off a dinner of pork chops, mashed potatoes and gravy, squash, bread and coffee.

There will be no work in the prison shops. At 7:45 mass will be celebrated in the chapel by the Catholic chaplain, Rev. Ralph W. Farrell. Afterwards there will be motion pictures in the chapel, followed by recreation in the yard.

After dinner the prisoners, who include 147 lifers, will be locked up for the remainder of the day.

Hotels Swamped With New Year's Reservations

Deputy Supt. McDevitt and Capt. Gustafson gave the orders to the 160 specially detailed officers. They will mobilize in eight squads and each squad will be accompanied by a building inspector who will see that there is no over-crowding or fire-hazard in the night clubs, cafes and theaters.

"Any open violations of the law will result in arrests" was the word issued after the roll call.

The eight squads will be on duty until 2 a. m. and the two flying squadrons until considerably later.

WATCH FOR SPEEDERS

Parking spaces will be watched and motorists will be warned to lock their cars and check their valuables.

In addition Supt. Crowley ordered division captains to have all night duty men report. Captains will be held responsible for conditions in their districts, despite the presence of headquarters men, he warned.

Special vigilance for auto thieves, holdup men and false-alarm ringers, was demanded.

Registrar Parker announced that he had cautioned state and local police to keep a special watch for drunken drivers and speeders. Roads throughout the state are in a dangerous condition, he said. Motor vehicle inspectors and state police will be on patrol in automobiles.

Early reservations gave promise of one of the most enthusiastic New Year's celebrations in many years. A dampness not of the weather—which tonight was expected to be a bit warmer, possibly with snow flurries—early made itself evident.

$8 A QUART.

Filler for the cup that cheers, and in turn is so often cheered, was available at $8 a quart for fairly good rye whiskey. Prices were unchanged from Thanksgiving quotations. There is a lot of fairly good liquor and a lot of bad liquor, it is reported. For the first time in several years the police failed to issue a poison liquor warning.

Many hotel managers, including L. C. Prior, director of the Lenox, Brunswick and Bradford, reported all their reservations taken this morning. All the big hotels with the exception of the Ritz-Carlton will have a special observance of the New Year.

At noon there were still reservations available at several night clubs and at most of the cafes and restaurants. The cost of the New Year's Eve party ranges from a minimum of $6 a plate to a maximum of $12.50, without ginger ale and cracked ice.

CHURCH SERVICES

All amusement places are expecting record crowds and the biggest business in the past 10 years. The consensus seems to be that 1930 has been a disappointing year and the intention is to celebrate its demise with more hilarity than usual.

Services will be held this evening and at midnight at Greater Boston churches.

A municipal celebration with community singing and a band concert will be held at the Parkman bandstand on Boston Common. The program will begin at 8 p. m. and last until midnight with a message from Mayor Curley being broadcast through Station WBZ at 11 p. m. At midnight the city will greet the New Year with the bursting of a bomb on the Common.

EXTRA TRAINS

Extra trains, trolleys and buses will be placed on all main lines of the Boston Elevated, Edward Dana, general manager, announced. Service on the main line elevated and the Cambridge-Dorchester line will be continued until 2 a. m. There will be all night service through the East Boston tunnel with extra trains running between midnight and 2 a. m. Extra bus service will be provided on the Boylston st. line.

U. S. PRODUCES 69 BILLIONS

Washington, Dec. 31 (INS)—The total value of products made in the United States in 1930 was $69,417,-345,229 the Department of Commerce announced today.

It is an increase of $7,000,000,000 over the preceding year. Three industries each turned out more than $3,000,000,000.

The 206,556 industries employed 8,742,761 persons and paid wages of $11,421,631,000. Materials used amounted to $37,730,454,000.

SHACK ROMEO GETS MERCY

Charles F. Winters, 36, Tewksbury shack dweller, was revealed as a man of many loves today in municipal court.

Winters, who came into court as a result of enticing a Montana wife from her home to his shack by a promise of riches, was arrested again for violation of probation on old charge of larceny from a woman. The Court accepted a recommendation that he be treated for illness and extended probation.

Probation records showed that he was married four times, three ventures ending in court and the other in death.

His first wife was Agnes Young, who died. Two of their sons are with a relative in Somerville.

His second wife was Eva Graham. She divorced him for cruelty.

Hannah L. Benson, was next in 1920. She bore him a child, now seven years. They were divorced in 1926.

His fourth marriage to a Miss Darringer of Saugus was annulled, the divorce from the Benson girl not being absolute.

THE LAST MILE

By Lewis Allen Browne

CHAPTER 34

"IF YOU lay a finger on me," he panted, "so help me, I'll kill you, I'll—"

He went down with a crash and sat up and blinked. Blood appeared from a cut on his eye.

"That's for hitting your wife!" Sid said.

Nissinger turned and tried to crawl away. Sid booted him inside the door and followed him in. Nissinger wouldn't get up.

"You wouldn't hit me when I'm down," he gasped.

"Of course I wouldn't—I wouldn't do that, any more than you'd sock a woman or any more than you'd hire a thug to blackjack a man from behind. But I'll tell you what I will do, I'll kick that face of yours into a hamburger steak if you don't get up!"

Nissinger flopped over on his face, his arms trying to protect his head.

"You make me sick, Nissinger—I can't fight a rotten jellyfish like you, but I'm here to warn you—if you go near your wife or if you try to set some thug on me, you'll be in bad. If anything happens to me you'll be bumped off in a jiffy because I have arranged that. Do you get me?"

"Yes," whimpered Nissinger.

Sid started to go and Nissinger got up, holding a handkerchief to his eye.

"Say," he said.

Sid turned.

"You're interested in Nina, it seems. You watch out or I'll get witnesses to tell about you with her in the garden that evening—if she starts divorce I'll make counter charges and ruin her!"

"If you dare try that I'll promise you something."

"Yeah? What?"

"I'll get a crowd of friends together and we'll tie you down and have a picture of a woman tattooed across your forehead—with a little letter 'N' right over her heart. You'll look cute marked like that and they'll have to skin the whole of your forehead to get it off—I don't know but what that is too swell an idea to lose—say, if you are in this city or within a hundred miles of it another twenty-four hours, I will have that little thing done to you and I don't mean this as any idle chatter."

"Yes you will!"

Sid knew that it was time to walk away, this would frighten Nissinger more than remaining to threaten.

Before daylight next morning Merton Nissinger had taken a West Coast train. He was going down into Mexico to get away, for one thing, and to try and divorce Nina before she could divorce him.

Sid gave up his work, laid off for a while, to devote all of his time to helping Rogers.

The appeal was denied.

The first week went and the second.

Sid wrote a cheerful letter to Dick, promising action right away. Dick sent back word that he knew how they were working. He could only repeat that Sid was the best friend any man had, and then added:

Scared Sick

"Do your best—perhaps, at the last minute, if you go to the Governor, you can get this commuted to life—that last mile has me scared sick. I haven't admitted it to the boys here, but it's true. And the way Father O'Connors is teaching me a lot of prayers and things doesn't look so good."

Sid felt that he ought to try and comfort Cicily. He wrote an appealing letter to her.

Her answer was:

"We would be crazy to marry. I couldn't face you without thinking of Dick. You'd always remember that my brother was executed on the charge of committing a foul murder. Don't see me, don't write—it's best for both of us, and this is final."

Sid understood then. There was no doubt. It was final. He believed he had done his duty. He tried to believe that he did the natural thing in not telling Dick about the true character of Ethel.

Every day made him more and more nervous.

The managing editor sent for him.

"You'll cover the execution for us, Sid," he said.

"No! My God, no! Watch my best pal murdered by the State? See him cooked in that contrivance? And me knowing that he didn't kill the girl? I couldn't do it. I'd collapse—I'll quit my job first—"

"Well, Sid, I hadn't thought of it in that light. Guess we'll have to put Peabody on it."

"Put anybody except me—but I'm not giving up yet. I'll get a stay some way, if possible—and it's got to be possible."

Lawyer Rogers knew how Sid felt, and he was making every effort.

On Sunday, September 13th, it seemed to Sid that all he could see was a calendar with great black print (black for mourning), with letters a foot high:

SEPT.

This was the beginning of the week in which the state had decreed that the warden at the penitentiary should put Richard Walters to death!

Sid wrote to Dick and asked if he shouldn't come up. Word came back:

"No, we'd feel a great deal worse. Just work like hell to save me, up to the last minute."

Friday night at 11 was the hour the warden had set, as Sid finally learned. Through the most important people he knew he managed to get audience with Governor Blanford.

Sid's Plea

He told him the entire truth, just as Dick had told it to him.

"Give him a chance, give him a stay, Governor," Sid pleaded, "or if you can't do that, commute it to life. Sometime something will come up to prove that Walters isn't guilty of murder."

Governor Blanford sighed and shook his head.

"You believe the story, I can see. But I can't bring myself to believe it, Mr. Cavenaugh—the public believes justice was done in the verdict. It would hearten every criminal if Walters were spared, it would lessen their fear of the law, it would be bad in every way. I have talked with Mr. Rogers about this, he was here today."

"There's no way of convincing you? Of appealing to you? Of touching you? You have the power, you know, Governor."

"I have the power, to a certain extent, but I am here to govern according to laws made by the people who put me here. In honesty to my own belief and because of the people's trust in me, I can't do this."

Sid was too desperate to say anything sarcastic. There was always hope that the Governor would relent at the eleventh hour.

"Think hard about it, Governor, take into consideration that I've known Walters for years and that I am as sure of his innocence as I am of my presence here. Try and change your mind before it is too late—and thank you for seeing me."

"All right, Mr. Cavanaugh." Governor Blanford rubbed his forehead wearily. "It isn't so easy for me," he said.

"It's easier than walking that last mile."

Sid bowed and hurried out. He was afraid he would break into a tirade of abuse and that would be fatal. The Governor might relent—there was a chance.

It was dark when he got back to the city. Dark on Friday and when next the sun shone, would Dick Walters see it? Sid shuddered as the thought came to him.

Up in the death house there was a tenseness that was tragic. Every one of those poor souls, even the demented Werner, suffered—they suffered because they knew how Richard Walters was suffering.

Drake was on duty as guard.

"Wouldn't you know that he would have to be on this shift," Dick muttered to Mears.

"I'd like to get my hands on him," Mears answered.

"Sunny Jackson up in cell 13 was softly singing a sort of hymn.

Otherwise there was silence. Finally Mayor said, "It's nine o'clock."

"What? Is it? It can't be. How do you know?" Dick asked.

"Steady," Mears said, for God's sake, show 'em, boy."

"Sure."

Counting Minutes

"Just heard the whistle blow," Mayor explained.

"You got good ears."

"Sure I have. Nothing to do but listen, is there?"

"Nothing to do but listen—and wait." There was a moment of silence. "Well, fellers, this looks like my last two hours."

"You'll get a stay yet, Seven," Kirby said.

"Too late, Red."

"The Governor has been givin' a lot—no reason why you don't get one."

"You'll get it, white boy. You will get it. Jest you keep right on prayin'," Jackson said.

"I'm praying, but it's no use, Thirteen."

"Don't be callin' me Thuteen.' How many times I asked yuh not to call me 'Thuteen'? Ain't it bad enough bein' in thuteen without havin' to be called it?"

Dick was silent. Kirby agreed with Jackson, to comfort him. They all liked the big colored fellow.

Suddenly Werner's weird voice was heard:

"Hol-mes!"

"I don't expect that stay," Dick said, hurriedly, to try and cover up Werner's maddening and mysterious drone. "I'd a got it before this."

"Hol-mes!"

"Your stay will come, seven, at the last minute, just wait. He's refused to commute your sentence, but if you had the priest wire him he might stop the execution tonight and have you examined by a lunacy commission or something.

"I did that, Kirby."

"Well?"

"Well—that's out. Wonder what time it is?"

"Forget the time, Walters."

"Yeah? Try and do it when you got a couple hours left."

"It's about nine fifteen I guess," Mayor said, kindly.

"An hour and fifty-five minutes to live," Dic said and he laughed.

"Don't do that—don't laugh like that, you give me th' willies," Kirby begged.

"About an hour and forty minutes to live," Dick said, slowly.

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Italian archaeologists have found, on the island of Cos, what is believed to be the first medical school in the world. The Italian government may restore this ancient temple as a monument to the science of healing. Read about it in the American Weekly section of the next Boston Sunday Advertiser.

AMERICANS TO EMIGRATE, SAYS SEN. JOHNSON

Washington, Dec. 31 (AP)—Despite its still great open spaces, the United States was seen today as destined in time to join the older nations whose people must emigrate to distant lands.

Only development of an entirely new giant industry was seen standing in the way of such a happening, pictured by Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee.

Johnson, whose committee has just approved a two-year immigration suspension bill, said:

"The United States can postpone but not ultimately escape population and living conditions of the older countries."

He named Canada, Australia, Africa, Mexico and South American countries as directions for emigration.

"We have lots of unoccupied land in the United States," Johnson said, "but it is apparent that farming under our standards of living is not profitable.

"On New Year's Day we might reflect that more than 2,000,000 boys and girls became of age in the United States last year. Many of these are at work, others have joined the ranks of the unemployed.

"Each year the use of labor-saving machinery is greater. Each year the number of citizens coming of age is larger. In spite of this, we are still an importer of immigrants. How long can this go on?"

EX-OFFICIAL OF NEWTON FINED

Charles I. Bucknam, 32 owner of a storage warehouse, West Newton, and former city forester, was found guilty on a charge of illegal sale of liquor today by Judge W. Lloyd Allen in Newton District Court and fined $100.

He received a three months suspended sentence on the charge of keeping and exposing liquor.

Harry Casper, 43, of Woolson st., Mattapan, and David Kaplan 35, of Homestead st., Roxbury, arrested Dec. 19 while driving from Bucknam's warehouse with two cases of liquor in their car, were found not guilty of keeping and exposing liquor. They will appear in the Federal court to answer a charge of transporting liquor.

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

Letters from readers on current subjects are welcomed. Letters should not exceed 250 words in length, should be written on one side of the paper and must bear the writer's name. Names will be omitted in publication, if requested. Address Editor, Boston American, 5 Winthrop sq.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:

I want to send my appreciation to your paper for the really splendid work you are doing, by publishing the letters of destitute families. I looked up one of the families—a widow with seven children, last week. I found no fire in the house. There was a little coal, but no wood for kindling, only oatmeal to eat, just one mattress for one bed, the other beds were bare. The mother hoped someone would send her two mattresses and bedding.

The oldest child, a girl of fifteen, was huddled in the kitchen. She has tuberculosis. An under-sized boy of four and a baby of two were at home, the other four at school. The baby was barefooted and wore a thin cotten dress in that cold house. It looks to me like two more cases of tuberculosis.

I was fortunate in interesting a kind church visitor. We took some clothing, and interested some nearby charitable societies in the case. My impression is that what is most needed to prevent such suffering is to organize a group of trained workers proficient in the plain every day art of cooking and budgeting the income of the family, as this type of woman does not understand how to take care of the family. She has twenty-five dollars a month from the city as mothers' aid, but because of ignorance they are in need half of the time.

We need the district visitor as well as the district nurse. If we could have preventive work done all the year there would be fewer cases of tuberculosis and other diseases which are the direct results of mal-nutrition and neglect.

MRS. FRANK FORD HILL.

Says Civilization Is Always on Trial

Editor Boston American:

Is civilization on trial? A Boston preacher in your paper says it is. Civilization could not be anything else but be on trial. Ever since this world began, the first touch of civilization has been in this way. It grows by being on trial.

We keep on improving it. This is a better world than the world of 50 years ago. There are special cases like that woman who offered to sell her body either before or after death for one year of life and $10,000 and other conditions. If that preacher will pour over Buckle's History of Civilization, he will find cases centuries ago that could not happen in modern civilization.

We are not perfect but we are better off than 50 years ago right here in Boston. A preacher must often be at his wit's end concerning a subject to win the attention of an audience.

We sympathize with him, but why hit civilization? Hit individuals more who make this world what it is. There are hosts of good people everywhere who are the salt of the earth and they are seasoning mankind. Give them a chance to assert themselves.

N. H. GILBERTSON.

Writer Finds Explosions in Every Walk of Life

Editor Boston American:

"We are in the midst of great explosions of the universe," is what Sir James Jeans of England said recently.

Sir James, you've said a real mouthful. There are explosions everywhere. They are in business, in society, in the government of this country, in Congress and the Senate of the United States, in science, in theology, in prohibition, in scandals, political parties, in marriages, in divorce courts, etc.

There are more spark plugs in human thought today than ever before. Everyone, more or less, is going off half-cocked, making a hideous noise. The Boston Evening American gives real news in this particular from all sections of the earth.

It is the explosion heard around the world, (to get intimate with Ralph W. Emerson). It is very seldom that any one believes what they hear today, they are more inclined to believe what they read in the newspapers. Thought is more explosive than any other agency.

The mind of humans is like a 16-inch cannon protecting Boston Harbor. You can't read a book but you get a shock at the way that some people are dragging sexology out of the closet.

MICHAEL B. KEANEY.

Praises Liberality That Aided Needy

Editor Boston American:

Now that Christmas has passed, it is well to take account of the stock of human kindness that went pouring into many ventures of help to the needy, the unemployed, the sick and shut-ins.

Those who lent a hand must be gratified that they have aided this effort of spreading cheer in some form or other.

Unemployment has stimulated liberal giving. Many persons were willing to practice self denial that others in need might be benefited.

It is such instances of good will everywhere that turn the tide against this being a cold world. It is a mightly warm world when it gets the fuel of good will burning briskly on the hearth of human love and kindness. There have been many pathetic instances of real want during the past three months in Boston. But on the other hand there have been many outstretched arms to grasp the pleading hand of a helpless human being.

Veteran Denounces 50 Percent Bonus Payment

Editor Boston American:

I was agreeably surprised with the warmth of the reception that greeted my letter asking those who were willing to vote for the persent office holder according to the way he voted on the bonus.

The light is reaching into the dark places and it seems to have illuminated the mind of the Minority Leader Garner who admits that the veterans can be trusted with half the amount of the face of the Adjusted Service Certificates.

But let us condem this offer to pay half. We must make a stand now — no compromise — no bargaining—we must be paid in full or new minds will take up the problem.

Garner is only offering the idea that Mellon insinuated in his letter to Senator Vandenburg, when he said, "There is some argument in favor of giving the veterans the option to cash these adjusted service certificates at the present time on a present value basis." Our answer to this Garner-Mellon idea is, PAY IT IN FULL!

It cannot be claimed that the action of the American Legion in convention binds anyone. They do not represent the veteran.

The offer of Garner's is only a feeler—what reaction they will get. We were traded in before. Let's stand firm for payment in full. No 50 per cent markdown.

To Victory—No Surrender—No Compromise. LET'S GO AGAIN!

His Blood Boils Over Factory Girl's Plight

Editor Boston American:

My blood seldom boils these days. It had its chance after reading a quotation in your paper from the Sunday sermon of the Rev. Dr. W. L. Stidger of the Copley M. E. Church, Boston.

He told of a factory young woman who was fired from a New England mill because she was "lippy" over her paltry wage of $6 a week. She protested against this wage. There is nothing wrong about getting lippy over that.

Being out of a job for some time, hunger drove her back to the mill and weeping, she asked for her job back again. She was taken back at a wage of $5 a week.

If this not a mean, cowardly way to treat a young woman no matter what the provocation, then I do not know human nature. If the name of that factory is given me I will see that that woman will get a position where she will be treated like a human being.

RICHMAN BROS. TO OPEN BIG STORE HERE

Richman Brothers, America's largest manufacturers of men's clothing, selling from factory direct to the public, have leased the entire 8-story building at the corner of Washington and Bedford sts. and will shortly open a large store featuring men's clothes at their one price of $22.50.

The new Richman store will be located in the building now occupied by the Bedell Co., which is retiring from business, giving them 37 feet of front and 29,970 square feet of choice space in the very heart of Boston's retail shopping district.

TO SPEND $50,000

Richman Brothers will spend approximately $50,000 improving and remodelling the building. This work will be done by Boston contractors. The opening of the store will also give employment to about 50 residents of Boston, as it is the custom of the Richman Brothers Co. to recruit their store taffs from the city in which the stores are located.

In coming to Boston, the Richman Brothers Co. fulfills an ambition of many years to have a store in the Hub of New England, for the company is one of the country's largest users of New England woolens and other textile products. Over 95 per cent of the materials used by Richman Brothers comes from the mills and factories within a radius of 100 miles of this city, thus playing an important part in the industrial and economic well being of this section of the country.

The Richman Bros. Co. is one of the oldest as well as the largest men's clothing manufacturing concerns in the United States, dating its inception back to 1853 and its subsequent establishment in Cleveland in 1819. It operates two large factories. The Cleveland plant is the largest of its kind in the world. The second factory is in Lorain, O. The two plants employ 3800 workers.

WORKERS ARE PARTNERS

The workers of the Richman Bros. Co. are partners in the business, a unique feature which has distinguished this company from all others in the men's clothing manufacturing business. The employes own a large block of the company's stock.

Negotiations for this deal have been pending for some time, and have just been closed through the efforts of Wm. P. Junglas, vice president of the Richman Bros. Co., and A. M. Bedell, president of the Bedell Cloak & Suit Co.

New Women Judges at Meeting

Laws Discussed at Conference of 7th and 8th Districts in East Boston

By NANCY BREWSTER

The appearance of Massachusetts' first two women judges featured the joint legislative conference of the seventh and eighth districts of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, held yesterday at the Barnes school, East Boston.

While Judge Emma Fall Schofield reviewed the laws that every woman should know, her colleague, Judge Sadie Lipner Shulman, reviewed the history of the Commonwealth after paying special tribute to Governor Allen for his recognition of women and their qualifications.

"By appointing two women judges, Governor Allen has established a precedent that doubtless will be followed by future Governors," Judge Shulman told several hundred clubwomen.

HAPPY DAYS FOR WOMEN

Judge Schofield brought to the attention of the clubwomen that they were living in "a really happy day" as far as their privileges are concerned, citing the times, not so far back when woman was a man's chattel and her legal status that of an insane person.

"Women have much to be thankful for today," Judge Schofield continued. "She can make contracts, carry on her own business, make her own will and legally pursue similar channels as does her husband."

The simple laws which affect the life of every woman, Judge Schofield urged the clubwomen to familiarize themselves with. She told them they ought to know how to make a will, how to make a contract, how to maintain finances and what legal status she assumed upon marriage.

It was an all-day legislative conference with Mrs. Nathaniel F. Smith, seventh district director, presiding over the morning session, and Mrs. Harold P. Johnson, eighth district director, presiding over the afternoon meeting.

Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, state chairman of the department of legislation, presided over the legislative part of the program, introducing many speakers who explained the bills now pending in the Legislature and upon which the State Federation will take action at the mid-winter meeting at the Hotel Statler the last of January.

Sunday Night Frock Now a Staple

By ANN ARDEN

ANN ARDEN broadcasts latest style news over WLEX every Tuesday and Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

THE SUNDAY night frock that appeared as one season's sensation has settled down into the pleasant status of a wardrobe staple. The tempo of modern fashion is such that everyone welcomes a frock that strikes a happy medium between the strictly formal and the too informal. The so-called Sunday night frock (which has not limited its activities to that one evening alone) is an answer to such a creed.

WHETHER IT is long sleeved or caped, this type of frock is a positive essential in the trousseau. It will tide the young hostess over any informal entertainment at home, and it will go smartly abroad without that worry of being too formally or too informally gowned.

IT HAS been questioned whether the Sunday night or restaurant dress would bring any new fabrics for its use this season. Heavy silk crepe is the choice of several Paris couturiers for this very useful and graceful style. It seems a natural development in the mode, for the fabric clings gracefully and it is a happy medium for the lines of the formal afternoon or informal evening ensemble.

FOR AFTERNOON, the very long skirt is following the lead of the evening frock. Ankle length skirts are as frequently seen at tea and the afternoon affair as they are found on the dance floor. The train is taboo, of course, but the long-all-'round frock is a definite afternoon fashion that is settling down to make itself a fixture of the mode.

THE COSTUME pictured, for formal afternoon or informal evening, is in black silk crepe. The lower skirt is circular from long pointed hip sections. The trimming is striking and unusual—silk silhouette appliqued on black net, outlining the V neck deeply, and forming puffs at the elbows. The sleeves button tightly at the wrists, and the fitted upper arm is of the silk. Sleeves frequently combine the frock fabric and the trimming fabric, almost half and half. The belt has buckle of brilliants. The smart hat is of black Panamalac straw. Two small white ostrich feathers are posed under brim at left side. Black suede gloves are worn.

ONE'S AFFECTION for such a frock should increase with wearing; its unusualness being qualified to earn for the wearer all sorts of gratifying compliments.

ANN ARDEN will answer questions concerning clothes, social customs or fashions generally. Address your questions to the Boston Evening American or the Boston Sunday Advertiser or to Station WLEX.

. . . Each year more millions check Colds 2 WAYS at once

Mother! The night coughs of children can usually be relieved by one application of Vicks. Just rub on freely and cover with warm flannel.

Millions more each year find there is nothing to equal the double attack of Vicks VapoRub in checking colds.

Rubbed on throat and chest, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, "drawing out" tightness and soreness. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the body heat, are breathed in direct to the air-passages.

Adults, too, now prefer this modern method of checking colds. In fact, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

THIS VIEW IS OF FAIRMOUNT, a part of Milton and a part of Hyde Park, now a part of Boston. Made in 1857, it shows the beginning of the development on the south side of the Neponset river looking from Dorchester. Thousands now live on the sparsely settled hill rising from the Neponset. The railroad in the foreground was one of the first in the country.

By NICHOLAS YOUNG

UPON MANY fair occasions Miss Grace George has brought warmth and glow within the four walls of our theater. The jolliest memories of every faithful attendant upon the drama must include Miss George somewhere in his reckoning. For she, like Mrs. Fiske, represents a theater above reproach, entertainment of good reason, and an honest exchange of talents for favorable opinion. If all this merely becomes an old, old story, it is none the less a prevailing idea in Miss George's brilliant performance in "The First Mrs. Fraser" at the Plymouth. Of smarter entertainment we have had none; of cleaner, very little, if any at all.

IN THE PROPER ratio of these hard times to an older and sterner, Mr. St. John Ervine has involved "The First Mrs. Fraser" with what might be called a double triangle. There were so many Frasers, young and old, to be accounted for that the ancient and simple rule of two men and a woman was necessarily rearranged into an affair embracing two men, two women and a pair of impertinent, chattering sons. The problem of divorce and its responsibilities gave Mr. Ervine his topic, and Miss George a new opportunity to show her own excellent wares as a comedienne.

Nicholas Young

THERE WAS a charming middle aged background to "The First Mrs. Fraser," but with all its advancing years the spirit of youth bubbled and flowed through it at every turn. Miss George, herself, as the first Mrs. Fraser, was every bit as sparkling in grace and gesture as her more youthful successor in the heart of bewildered Jim Fraser. And to add to the gaieties, Miss George served as household counsellor to both her wayward husband and his none too faithful second spouse. In the meantime grown-up sons steeped in Oxonian lore, meddled in the free manner of untamed youngsters.

AS THE AFFAIRS of the rasers—two families of them—ipped through the evening, ere were early signs of happy lution. You knew at a glance at eventually Jim Fraser would back at the old fireside. He sn't so sure of it himself, but original Mrs. Fraser knew own cards and played them. oughout it all, Miss George was superb—the woman skilled in the finer wrinkles of domestic diplomacy. The mature matron with adult children, she still reflected youth, blended with experience. Miss George made it a splendid night for everybody—even her poor victims in the cast. The performance was one to be remembered.

THE MUCH harassed James Fraser was admirably played by A. E. Mathews in a Scottish dialect as broad as it was soothing. Always a good actor, faithful in small things and skilled in all the arts of the theater, Mr. Matthews made a notable contribution to the evening's fun. In more measured manner and speech, Lawrence Grossmith brought serviceable quality to the cast, while Phyllis Elgar left no doubt in anyone's mind as to her vitality, emotion and extreme good looks. The meddling sons were done by Charles Campbell and Lowell Gilmore—and done with great fervor.

AS THE FOURTH of the Professional Players' presentations at the Plymouth, "The First Mrs. Fraser" easily leads all that has gone before. It is a smart comedy, brilliantly acted, with Grace George once more pointing the way to better and brighter moments.

Tonight's New Year's show at Keith's will mark the world's premiere of "The Criminal Code" Columbia film featuring Walter Huston as a dynamic district attorney and later warden of the jail, and young Phillips Holmes.

A gala midnight celebration at the Keith-Boston will consist of a special program of augmented RKO vaudeville and talking features.

Gala midnight shows will usher in the New Year tonight at both the Loew's State and Orpheum theater. Joan Crawford's latest triumph, "Paid," will be the attraction at the State. The story is based on Bayard Veiller's drama, "Within the Law," and is enacted by a cast that includes a newcomer, Kent Douglass, Robert Armstrong, Marie Prevost, Polly Moran, John Miljan and Purnell Pratt.

At Loew's Orpheum the program will include the showing of Kathleen Norris' dramatic love story, "Passion Flower," together with a big vaudeville show. The picture has a great collection of stars that includes Kay Francis, Charles Bickford, Kay Johnson, Lewis Stone and Zasu Pitts. The vaudeville is headed by Bert Gordon and Raye, Ellis and LaRue.

At the Repertory the Screen Guild opens up its season tonight with a premiere program at 8:30, followed at 11:30 by the gala midnight show. The film feature will be "Secrets of the Orient," a spectacular picture based upon the Arabian Nights; and at both shows the famous dancer, Dorsha, will appear in person in a program of artistic numbers. Her program follows: Suite of Peasant Dances, (a) Joyous Dance; (b) Reverie; (c) "I dance with a mosquito"; Javanese Sarimpi Dance (Camelan); Fragment of a Ballet (Ravel); Street Arab (Napnavnik); East Indian Nautch (Dorsha).

A gala Midnight Show tonight is scheduled for the Scollay Sq. with an "all-girl, all-comedy" show holding forth on the stage, with George C. MacKinnon as master of ceremonies. Mr. MacKinnon promises a new line of his inimitable chatter for the occasion, and he will be assisted by the Clark Girls, Marie and Ann. Favors, noisemakers, and other typical New Year paraphernalia will be handed out in liberal quantities, and a fast, merry show is in promise.

The biggest New Year's Eve show ever staged in the Bowdoin Square will be put on tonight at 11:30, when Joan Lee, "the personality girl" and 10 act of RKO vaudeville, together with "Min and Bill," all-talking photoplay, will make up the program. Favors and novelties for patrons will add to the fun.

The Park for its midnight show will offer a triple feature program, headed by Charlie Murray and George Sidney in "The Cohans and Kellys in Africa." The others are "The Spell of the Circus" and "Headin' North."

* * *

For its New Year's Eve midnight show the Metropolitan will offer "The Royal Family of Broadway," with Ina Claire, Henrietta Crosman, Mary Brian and Fredric March. There will be comedy pictures, news and other features. Arthur Martell will offer an organ novelty.

The Washington Street Olympia and Uptown will have midnight shows tonight, each offering as feature, Emil Jannings and Marlene Dietrich in "The Blue Angel."

By a change in bookings patrons of the Fenway will be enabled to see a previous showing of "Under Suspicion," with Lois Moran at the New Year's Eve show "Mothers' Cry" will resume New Year's Day.

* * *

The Modern and Beacon will have midnight shows tonight, each starting at 11:30 p. m. The films will be "Only Saps Work" and "The Third Alarm."

CHESTER MORRIS JOINS UNITED ARTISTS GROUP

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

Copyright, 1930, by Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31—Roland West starts the New Year under pleasant auspices and so does Chester Morris. Both of them were handed nice new contracts by Joseph Schenck, making Roland exclusively a United Artists producer and Chester Morris a United Artists star. It is nice the two contracts came together, for ever since "Alibi" made a little film history for us, the names West and Morris have been associated.

Naturally Chester Morris feels grateful to Roland West for having given him his first chance and Roland feels grateful to Chester for doing such a good job. The first Chester Morris starring vehicle will be "Corsairs" by Walter Green, a serial published in a current magazine. Roland will not direct "Corsairs." He will merely act as producer. Josephine Lovett has written the continuity and the story will be started right after the new year.

Louella O. Parsons

IF SOMEONE will take Josef von Sternberg gently by the hand and say "don't try and be eccentric" I have no doubt he will make a good picture out of "An American Tragedy." Josef von Sternberg can do the best and the worst directing all in one picture of anyone I know. He has a deftness and a sense of beauty that is overwhelming. Then again he will do something ridiculous that we wonder if he isn't trying to give us a dual personality. Here is an amusing stunt. Sam Hoffenstein, who is new to the movies, having formerly been a press agent for A. H. Woods, will write the adaptation of "An American Tragedy." Phillips Holmes, whom we have always nominated for the part of Clyde Griffiths if Paramount did insist upon making this stark tragedy, is the definite choice.

THE NEW YEAR looms promisingly for Irene Rich who has just signed a contract to open in vaudeville, January 21. St. Louis is her first stopping off place, then she goes to Chicago, New York and Philadelphia. Irene is finishing "Women Are Like That" and in order to get in the proper rehearsing for her sketch she is flying to St. Louis. Claire Windsor is back in town. A little note from her says she is here to stay. We hope she is for it has been a long time since we have seen Claire and we missed her.

RALPH FORBES returning from a hunting trip. BESS MEREDYTH wearing a new diamond bracelet given her by her husband, MIKE CURTIZ, for Christmas. MRS. ## MATINEE FOR ACTORS' FUND

The Actors' Fund of America will receive the gross receipts of a special matinee to be given at the Tremont on Tuesday afternoon, January 6, with Bernard Shaw's comedy, "The Apple Cart," as the attraction.

The Theater Guild will suspend the subscription list for this performance, thus affording the public an opportunity to obtain front seats at popular prices.

Everybody connected with the theater and the acting company have donated their services for this extra performance in aid of the aged and destitute people of the stage world.

Menuhin

Yehudi Menuhin, the prodigy violinist of 13, will come to Boston to give a single recital on Sunday afternoon, January 11, in Symphony Hall at 3:30.

SPECIAL SHOW BY QUEENIE

"The Street Singer," starring the diminutive Queenie Smith at the Shubert and, at the present moment the only musical comedy gracing Boston boards, will be the only legitimate attraction offering a midnight show for New Year's revelers. Miss Smith and her company will give two performances tonight. The first will start at 8:15 p. m. and the second at 11:45 sharp. Many added attractions and interpolations have been arranged to make the midnight performance a gala affair.

Art Quartet

The concert scheduled to take place in Jordan Hall on the evening of January 15 by the Musical Art Quartet, has been deferred to a later date. Reinald Werrenrath will give a program of lieder in Jordan Hall, January 15.

STARTING FRIDAY

MISS FARMER'S Radio COOKING SCHOOL
PERSONALLY CONDUCTED BY Miss Alice Bradley

TUESDAY AND FRIDAY 9:9.15 A.M.
STATION W·N·A·C

PRESENTED BY FIRST NATIONAL STORES

WEEI and WBZA to Carry the Short-Wave Broadcast to Be Heard Tomorrow at 2 P. M.

Premier Benito Mussolini will give his first address to an American radio audience tomorrow, New Year's Day, from 2 to 2:15, and his message, originating in Rome, will be available not only to listeners of this country, but to all sections of the globe as well. The short wave transmitters of at least five American stations will radiate the speech. In the local area both NBC stations WEEI and WBZA will carry the broadcast.

Three minutes before Mussolini is scheduled to go on the air, M. H. Aylesworth, president of NBC, will make a brief introductory speech. He will speak from New York, and at the conclusion of his introduction control will revert to Rome, where Mussolini will speak from his headquarters. The Italian's address will be made in English, for the statesman is an accomplished linguist and speaks English with only the suggestion of an accent.

The premier's talk will mark the first broadcast from the mainland of Italy, for previous Italian broadcasts have originated on ships in Italian waters. It will also mark the twelfth time NBC has pioneered in presenting programs from as many foreign countries. Other men whose words have been conveyed to listeners in the United States by NBC are King George, the Prince of Wales, Premier MacDonald, former prime minister Andre Tardieu, Italian foreign affairs minister Grandi, Dr. Julius Curtis, who holds a similar portfolio in the German cabinet, and Prime Minister Wakatsuki of Japan.

Torch Singer

LIBBY HOLMAN, revue star, to broadcast songs from her dressing-room at the Selwyn Theater, as guest artist of the Maxwell House Ensemble, tomorrow night at 9:30 over WBZ-WBZA.

"Mr. and Mrs." to Go Back on Air Thursday

After an absence of several months from the air, Walter ("Hap") Myers and Gertrude LaMoth—you know them as "Mr. and Mrs." in the original—will renew broadcasting their skit tomorrow night at 6:45 over WEEI. Press of other work forced the couple to go off the air until now when they return under sponsorship of the William Filene's Sons Co. on the New Year's night broadcast.

RADIO Personalities

"Shanghai Gesture," a musical composition heard on the "Tone Pictures" program last week, was composed by DOMENICO SAVINO after he saw FLORENCE REED in the dramatic production of the same name . . . MARIE GERARD is singing o'er the mike from a sitting position these days owing to a sprained knee . . . More New Year's resolutions: TED HUSING promises never to delve into the dictionary for five and six syllable adjectives to spring on the public. DAVID ROSS says he will write another book of poetry. FRANK KNIGHT will endeavor to pen a series of articles on radio. ADELE VASA resolves not to smile before strangers, since the smile usually provokes a "what beautiful teeth you have." HARRY BROWNE resolves to attend personally to his fan mail . . . LEWIS JAMES, NBC singer, tried to enter West Point, but failed by one point to become a caydet.

Six Burned to Death

Montreal, Dec. 31—Six of the nine children of Henri LaBelle, St. Janvier, Que., butter merchant, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home.

Concerning Radio

Edited by BILL WHIPPLE

It would not seem to us appropriate to entirely ignore such a momentous occasion as the demise of the old year and the birth of the new. It has no particular significance insofar as radio is concerned, although the great chains do recognize the event by broadcasting special programs. But to us who are merely a unit—and a very inconspicuous unit at that—the holiday tomorrow is mostly just a pause in the rhythmic beat of our business life; a cessation from the usual activities.

No, we are slightly in error in that statement; we shall amend it somewhat. This particular event, this holiday, is a time for retrospection; a moment in the passage of months when it is well to pause and look inwardly, to stand Bill Whipple up before us and say to him: "Bill, can you truthfully say you have been entirely honest with yourself this past year; have you been the man you really would like to believe you are?"

"Can you, Bill Whipple, look me square in the eye and tell you been to, and done for your fellow-man all those small things which help to make life a little pleasanter. Were you to go back over the last twelve months, aren't there some things you have left undone, some words left unsaid, and many deeds enacted and thoughtless words said, all of which you would, now that you pause to consider the past, change had you the opportunity?"

"Ah! You hang your head a little, don't you, Bill? There were boulders along somebody's path which you might have removed; there were hungry hearts which a word or two from you mights have cheered; there were lapses from grace on your own part when the things you did were better left undone. In short, now that you look back, your conscience troubles you a trifle for you realize now it is too late that you might have done much better.

"Did we say too late? Excuse us, please, Bill, that was an error. It is not too late! The blessed new year stretches out its 365 days before you; each day brand new, unsullied and clean. Not a mark or blemish is upon them. They are yours, Bill, to do with as you please. And now, old fellow—that's right, smile a little—I want you to promise me to help keep them clean. Don't mess them up with mean little deeds, with unkindnesses, with thoughtless words, or even with base thoughts. Let's make a record this coming year so that when 1932 comes along we can look back at this season with pride. Will I shake hands on it, you ask? Why sure I will! There, old pal, there's my hand. Darn your old hide, Bill, I know you're going to make the grade."

When the festive aspects of New Year's have passed on, tonight, radio programs of a more serious and thoroughly absorbing nature will take their place tomorrow. We know of no day in the year which has such a variety of radio entertainment as the oncoming 24 hours. Try the following on your dials tomorrow.

WEEI at 2:30. When a prison becomes a broadcasting studio it's time to tune in. The office of Warden Barr, in the Tombs, New York's historic city prison, will become the acoustical adjuncts of a 30-minute radio program by the inmates. The 20-piece unit from the reformatory, assisted by its male quartet, will go on the air with a musical salute to 1931.

WEEI at noon. Inauguration ceremonies for Governor-elect Roosevelt of New York, and his address formally opening his second term as chief executive to the Empire State, will be transmitted from Albany. Speeches of officials of the state will be heard.

Neither WBZA nor WEEI have definitely decided to take the New Year's Day Adventure program heard on both NBC networks but it is likely that at least one will carry the program heard tomorrow at 3:45. More than 50 foreign tongues will be heard and those participating in the broadcast will give a New Year's greeting characteristic of the people in whose language they speak. The expressions will be interpreted in English.

WNAC at 11 a. m. A special New Year morning service will be broadcast from the National Cathedral at Washington. Bishop James E. Freeman will preach a sermon with relief for the unemployed as its theme.

No local station will broadcast the much touted Washington State-Alabama Tournament of Roses football game at Pasadena, Cal., but WEAF, WTAG, WJAR and WTIC will carry the broadcast. Bill Munday and C. L. Lantry will be at the microphone.

WNAC at 10 a. m. An annual event that had its origin more than 100 years ago, the Philadelphia New Year's Mummers Parade, will be described by Ted Husing. Harlequins will caper along Broad st., weird antics will be performed and band music will be heard in this glittering pageant.

PORT OF BOSTON

By JAMES J. DELANEY

New Year's celebrations will hold sway in many places along the waterfront today.

Tomorrow peace and quiet will reign in the port as holidays have been granted to everyone except those needed to carry on necessary work.

Several ships are racing along the Atlantic headed here from foreign ports to be the first accredited arrivals at this port from across the seas.

TOMB IN SEA

After a busy lifetime carrying cargo over the seas of the world, the shell of the three-masted schooner Ethel N will be laid in her final resting place on the bottom of the ocean. Stripped of her masts and with all her parts worth saving removed, the battered hull shows some of the ravages of her rugged life as she is being prepared for her burial. She has been pumped clear of all the water that seeped through her seams while she was laid up here. Arrival of her speedier sisters made it impossible for her to get freight. Her holds will be filled with sand to weigh her down. She will be taken out to the deep waters of Broad Sound where holes will be punched in her sides to let in the seas.

Jeremiah Murphy of the United States Army Engineers office, is to be the only official witness of the sinking.

For three years she has been tied up at Berelsen and Peterson Wharf, East Boston.

THOMAS RETIRES

Physicians have ordered John H. Thomas, for seven years in charge of the International Mercantile Marine Co. in Boston, now vice-president of the company, to quit active duty because of his health. He has made many friends in Boston.

SEA NEW YEAR

New Year's Eve sailings are attracting Bostonians. Mrs. H. M. Savage and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Savage were booked to sail on the new turbo electric liner Oriente of the Ward Line, which is making its second holiday cruise. The S. S. Coamo of the Porto Rico Line will take Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Queen, Frederick K. Queen, Evelyn M. Queen, Juanita Queen and W. W. Gallagher on an 11-day cruise to the West Indies. Society folk that sailed on the M. S. Bermuda of the Furness Bermuda Line to their winter homes are Mrs. James Otis, Mrs. Marion Otis Sears and Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Vaughan.

Wilda Sees Gracie Is Wasting Money

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Wilda Gardner, bookkeeper in a hardware store, is in love with Logan Townsend. He is no Adonis, Wilda thinks, but "he has a rare smile." Wilda's father dies and her mother, Gracie, becomes a different woman when the lawyers say the estate will amount to $100,000. She plans a trip to Europe. Wilda has a wonderful time at a house party where Logan asks her to marry him. Myrtle, who is determined to win Logan, turns up at the dock as Wilda boards steamer for Europe. Logan's leave-taking is affectionate. In Paris Gracie becomes interested in Mr. Gigi Cortes. But Wilda sighs for Logan, and wishes he was with her.

By MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1930.)

ROMANCE! The countryside was steeped in it!

Their route lay through villages where the inhabitants sometimes had to flatten themselves against the walls of the tall houses so the car might pass, so narrow was the highway . . .

"Isn't it too comical?" laughed Gracie.

Artists had painted pictures on the walls of the houses, while others were decorated with mosaic.

And there were arches overhead, joining these old, quaint buildings.

Florence at Last
City on the Hills

Florence at last—that city built on hills. Gracie and Wilda lingered on the Old Bridge that is lined with little shops . . . and called the "Ponte Vecchio."

"Wouldn't you think the whole thing would collapse, it is so old?"

"Houses and all, the bridge has stood right there for centuries," said Wilda.

Necklaces and cameos and souvenirs of every kind were displayed in the deeply gabled little windows. Gracie went into ecstasies over the antique jewels.

But Wilda was thinking: "It was on this very bridge that the poet Dante first saw his beloved Beatrice!"

Over 600 Years Old
Gazing at the Duomo

"Come on, let's get back to the hotel for a bit, Wilda. It's so very warm."

"The interior of the churches are quite cool. Wouldn't you like to go inside the Duomo?"

"The one with the tinted mosaics on the outside walls?"

"Yes. It's over 600 years old."

"And I feel just as old as that," rejoined Gracie peevishly.

"There's a church much nearer than the Duomo that by the appearance of it I would say is a [illegible]."

They went there. It was beautiful and cool and dim inside.

An old man at a little desk by the door rose hastily and followed them. He said something that they couldn't understand, in whispered Italian.

"Scusi! Scusi!" He pointed to Wilda's bare arms, and then, apologetically, at the exit. Wilda's bare arms, and then, apologetically, at the exit.

"Mercy on us!" exclaimed Gracie. "He wants to throw us out into the street!"

"It's my dress. You must wear long sleeves in Italian churches. It's the new rule I read of. I'd forgotten."

"The very idea! But they

Two-Alarm Fire in Market District

Fighting Fulton St. Fire

$10,000 LOSS IN COFFEE WAREHOUSE

Much Damage by Smoke and Water at the Building 109 Fulton St.

Fire raced through the top floor of the Louis D. Margolis Co. coffee warehouse at 109 Fulton st., in the market district, shortly after daybreak today.

The five-story brick structure was seriously threatened and two alarms were sounded.

Dist. Chief John Good estimated the loss at $10,000, but Margolis who said coffee, tea and cocoa valued at $90,000 were stored in the building, thought the loss would go much higher.

Water seeped through all the floors and damaged the Bay State restaurant on the ground floor. The plaing of freshly roasted hot coffee beans in wooden containers last night is believed to have caused the blaze.

Four Driven Out by Blaze in Brookline

Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Ritchie and two children were driven from their home at 22 Dunster rd., Brookline, today when fire that started in the basement worked to the second floor.

Damage was estimated at $5000.

The blaze was discovered by Ritchie, who was awakened by dense smoke that seeped through the second floor.

He took his family to the home of neighbors and returned to fight the fire unutil the arrival of the apparatus.

Injured Youth Falls at Mother's Grave

Injured when a truck hit his car in a funeral cortege, Robert Randall, 20, collapsed today in Riverside Cemetery, Cliftondale, beside the grave into which the body of his mother was being lowered. He persisted in continuing to the cemetery after being injured.

Numbers Please, Is Their Plea

PROTEST OF CITIZENS URGED IN LETTERS

Personal Protest Before the Street Commissioners Is Suggested in Handbills

East Boston is up in arms over the proposal to store 1,830,000 barrels of petroleum products in steel tanks at Orient Heights.

Thousands of handbills urging the citizens to appear in Faneuil Hall on January 6, at 11 a. m., before the street commissioners, and protest against the issuance of a permit to Philip Graver, were distributed today.

FIGHTING FOR SELF

"Do not let your neighbor do your fighting for you or trust to any of your leaders, as you know the election is over and they are not looking for votes now," the circulars, signed by John J. Curran, Jr., of 9 Chaucer st., and Harry MacMasters, 19 Moore st., read.

"These tanks, if erected, will positively mean a higher insurance rate, lower value on your real estate, empty tenements, and a fire and health menace. For just as sure as this permit is granted there will be erected a distillery and we will have another such nuisance as there is in Everett.

WARNS OF MISLEADING

"Do not be misled by a lot of bunk about unemployment, because it has been the custom in the past to bring non-union boiler makers from New Jersey and Chicago while our citizens walked the bricks."

Post cards are also being circulated addressed to Mayor Curley, reading:

"Remember the pledge you made before your last election that you would fire the street commission if they gave a permit authorizing the erection of oil tanks at Orient Heights. I expect you to keep your pledge."

APPEAL MADE TO SAVE COASTERS

School teachers and parents were asked today for aid against coasting mishaps as accidents passed the 100 mark, with two deaths and a dozen injuries reported.

Both deaths occurred outside Greater Boston, one in Dracut and the other in Willimantic, Ct.

The Massachusetts Safety Council and Boston Rating Bureau made the appeal to those in charge of children, with the teachers asked to warn of both skating and coasting hazards as soon as schools reopen.

Police have already taken steps toward prevention in many sections, closing streets where the children are endangered.

Most of the Boston injuries thus far have been minor, but the dangers of more serious injuries were seen in the narrow escapes. Winifred Cutting, 12, of Columbus ave., Roxbury, was one of the more seriously injured, suffering a fractured collar bone and possible internal injuries when her sled rammed a pole in Fort ave., Roxbury.

Donato Portanova, 12, of Cambridge, severed an artery in his knee and was treated at Cambridge city hospital. Richard Douglas, 5, of Lamartine pl., Roxbury, is at New England hospital, suffering possible internal injuries from a crash into an auto.

Many other cases were treated at City Hospital and Haymarket Relief station.

City Hall Plans Ready

Plans for the construction of a new City Hall in Newton have been completed by architects.

CHURCHES MARK NEW YEAR

Services in both Catholic and Protestant churches will usher in the New Year.

The blessings and greetings of the Catholic Church will be broadcast by Cardinal O'Connell throughout New England. The Cardinal will broadcast from the Hotel Buckminster studio of station WNAC beginning at 7 p. m.

In Protestant churches in and around Greater Boston, special candlelight services and midnight watches will be held. At St. Paul's Cathedral, services under the direction of Dean Sturgis will be conducted. Rev. Arthur Lee Kinsolving will officiate at services in Trinity Church.

At Tremont Temple, Rev. Dr. Brougher will hold New Year's Eve services beginning at 8 p. m., and lasting until midnight. Candlelight services "under the direction of Prof. H. E. B. Speight of Dartmouth College will be held at King's Chapel.

New Year's Day, Catholics throughout the world will observe the Feast of the Circumcision, a holy day of obligation with special masses being held in all churches. Starting at 5:30 a. m., masses will be celebrated at St. James Church, Harrison ave. Other Catholic churches will hold masses at the same hours as on Sundays.

Worker Crushed to Death in Factory

Mellio Ardizzone, 30, of Spencer ave., Chelsea, was killed today when he was crushed by a heavy press in a Chelsea box factory in Gerish ave.

BABSON WISHES BURIAL IN PARK

Roger W. Babson, head of the Babson Institute, has requested the town of Wellesley to authorize him to establish a private cemetery in order that he might be buried on the grounds of the institute he founded.

The law requires that any one wishing to establish a cemetery must obtain the permission of the town.

Babson is in Florida. His son-in-law, however, Winslow L. Webber of Wellesley said it is sentiment alone that prompted Babson to ask for authority to establish the cemetery.

Deckhand Rescued by Longshoremen

Herbert Matheison, 22, a deckhand on the Boston-New York steamship George Washington, was rescued today by longshoremen after he had fallen into the water at India wharf while handling hawsers for the docking of the boat. He was taken to Haymarket relief station.

$50 Weekly for News and Picture Tips

Do you want to get money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American offers the opportunity. Each week $50 in prizes will be given for news and picture tips telephoned into the News-Tip Editor, at Liberty 4000.

And what is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an interesting picture is to be obtained, that an accident or an unusual event has happened, that there is going to be a business merger? That's a news tip. If you have a camera, take a picture of some news event, while it is happening. Pictures of unusual animal poses are wanted, too. Bring your action pictures to the American quick. Delay often spoils them for use in the American.

There will be $15 given weekly for the best or an unusual event news tip received; $10 for the next best; $5 for the next best, and $2 prizes for each of the 10 next most valuable tips. Of course, the first one who turns in the tip in an interesting event receives the award on that particular item. Anyone who is alive and alert can win.

First Boston Directory of 1789 Listed 1594

Butler, Mary, keeps a "boarding house for gentlemen, and all sorts of Garden Seeds, No. 56 Newbury street."

Believe it or not, that's the listing in the first Boston directory and printed in 1789, a fac-simile of which has just been published by the Sampson & Murdock Co., present-day publisher of directories.

There were 1594 persons listed in the first directory. You can count the number in the latest yourself.

In the first directory you learn that Jones David, was a hatter and had a slop-shop in 5th st., whatever a slop-shop was.

And Rumney, Edward, had a very stern time of it, daily, in his "shop south-side the market" as chocolate and mustard grinder.

It may appear a bit of a swanky address of present-day mechanics and body builders (not M. D.s), but Frothingham (Wheeler and Jacob) did their coach making in "the laboratory" near the Hay-market in West st.

John Hancock, Esq., is listed as Governour—it was spelled that way—with residence in Beacon st., as befits a Governor.

William Cooper was town clerk, a tailor was then a "taylor" in the old spelling, and the town directions were so simple, for instance, that Margaret Newman might be found, according to the directory, "five doors below the drawbridge."

The directory makers of the old days, even if not 100 per cent efficient, were conscientious and thorough and when they discovered that O'Donnell, Ralph, well digger, Hawkins st., was missing from the list, they gravely added him under "Omissions."

Somerville Elks in New Year's Party

Somerville Elks will give a New Year's Eve party tonight at the Home in Central st. Novel features will be introduced and there will be dancing until 2 a. m. The committee of arrangements consists of Albert E. Hughes, chairman; Walter M. Smith, secretary, and Paul Nolan, treasurer; on publicity, Thomas Pickett, Matthew Ryan and Charles Magno; favors, Dr. Francis J. Welch; refreshments, Frank Picard, Charles Lienhard and Charles Giles.

Retires After 56 Years in Army Corps

After 56 years service with the Army Engineers, Sergt. Joseph A. Newburg, 74, was retired today. Newburg, a native of New York, resides at 79 Mountain ave., Malden. He was retired from Army service in 1902 but returned to service in May, 1903.

ESSEX STREET STATION CLOSES

Postmaster Charles R. Gow announced today that the Essex st. station of the Boston postal district will be abandoned at midnight tonight, and that business hereafter will be transacted at 107-111 Chauncy st.

The lease at the Essex station expired today.

Thirty-eight carriers, who formerly radiated from the Essex station will until further notice make their deliveries from the South postal annex, Beach st. and Atlantic ave.

With the exception of the transfer of the carrier force from the Essex station to the South postal annex, all of the Essex station activities will be continued at the Chauncy st. station.

Receivers for Railway Named

Clark V. Wood, its president, and Daniel W. Lincoln, both of Worcester, were today appointed receivers in equity for the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway Co.

Appointment was made by Judge Morton in federal court when no opposition appeared to the petition of stockholders.

The road is said to have more than $15,000,000 liabilities and to be unable to meet a bond issue of nearly $5,000,000.

Postoffice to Be Closed Tomorrow

Stations, branches and general departments of the Boston postoffice will be closed tomorrow in observance of New Year, a legal holiday. Special delivery and perishable mail only will be delivered.

Greater Boston Has 1,955,168 Population

Complete census figures made public yesterday by the Civic Bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, show that Metropolitan Boston—the 43 cities and towns in the metropolitan area—has a population of 1,955,168 for the year 1930.

Boston proper has but 781,188, and with that figure ranks but ninth among the cities of the country, whereas the Greater Hub as such would be fifth, exceeded in numerical size only by New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit, in that order.

New Commander on Cruiser Raleigh

Capt. Buron McCandliss will be in command of the cruiser Raleigh when it sails from the Navy Yard tomorrow for Hampton Roads, Va. He comes from the Bureau of Navigation to succeed Capt. Ernest Fredericks, who has been transferred to the training station at San Diego. The Raleigh, which has been undergoing minor repairs for six weeks, will soon leave Hampton Roads for winter maneuvers at Guantanamo, Cuba.

Suspect in Robbery 2 Years Ago Seized

Charged with breaking into the home of Mrs. Margaret Collins, 51 Neptune rd., East Boston, nearly two years ago, Charles Maglione, 34, of Chelsea, was held in $1000 bail today in East Boston court for hearing Jan. 8. He pleaded not guilty. He was arrested after Chelsea police received information he was visiting relatives.

News in Want Ads

——A Boylston st. dealer in new and used cars will insure and put plates on any car purchased for $200 or more.

What Crystal Ball Holds Forth in Sport

Well! Well! Well! Look who's here! Little 1931, knocking on the door and asking us, one and all, if he please can come in. You bet you can come in, Kid! Come right in and make yourself to home. Put your feet on the mantle shelf, open the cupboard and help yourself. What have you got in store for the sporting fans, Kid 1931? You don't like to tell, you say? You want all of us Boston fans to gaze in the crystal ball and see what we can see ourselves? That isn't such a bad idea. Bring forth the crystal ball (and, sotto voce, a coupla high balls) and let's all see what we can see.

George Underwood

What's that floating around in the nebula? Looks like a stein. Glory be! Are we going to be able to gather 'round the table and be merry while we're able with the flowing stein, once again? But this crystal ball we're gazing into only is a sports ball. It will not tell us anything about politics or anything except sports. And looking closer we note that it isn't a stein but a big silver cup. Say, we've seen that somewhere before.

And what are those figures flitting hither and yon about the cup, like moths 'round a flame? They have things that look like shilelahs in their hands. Must be fairies—Irish fairies. No, they have sweaters on, and skates and—gosh! There's Art Ross and Eddie Shore, Dit Clapper, Hitchman, Beattie and all the Bruins!

Bonehead! What a bonehead we were not to recognize the Stanley Cup! Huh, and we thought it was a stein. It's the Stanley Cup there in the crystal ball and our Bruins are skating off with it.

Les Canadiens, Black Hawks, Cougars, Rangers, not a player of them are to be seen anywhere. The crystal ball says the Bruins are going to capture the Stanley Cup and that's all there is about it.

Things are spinning around and around inside the ball. The Stanley Cup and the Bruins seem to be fading out and now, as plain as day, we see a statue in front of us. A statue of a boxer. On the base of the statue are a list of names. Something is moving in front of it. Why it is a finger, a hand with a pen. The hand is writing a name:

> "The Moving Finger writes;
> and having writ,
> Moves on: nor all your Piety
> nor Wit
> Shall lure it back to cancel
> half a Line,
> Nor all your Tears wash out
> a Word of it."

What is that statue? What name did the Moving Finger add to the list? While we ponder the statue fades and a ring scene appears. A boxer climbs through the ropes. His back is turned. Now he turns and faces us. It's Jack Sharkey. Jack Sharkey, The Squire himself.

Ah, now we see. That statue was the Tunney-Muldoon Championship Trophy. And the name Fate was adding to the list of champions was "Jack Sharkey." The Crystal Ball says Jack Sharkey of Boston is going to dethrone Max Schmeling and bring back the world's heavyweight championship home to the little old U. S. A. where it hung up its hat for many, many years and where it certainly belongs.

FLYING TACKLE

What's that in front of us now, dimly showing in the mists? Looks like a crown. No it isn't a crown. Ah, now we see. It's a belt. While we're gazing at the belt and trying to make out the inscriptions an almost nude figure dives across the ball and wraps the belt in a flying tackle.

Aha! So Gus Sonnenberg is going to win back the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, eh? That's what the Crystal Ball says, and it must be so.

Look at the entrance to a golf club. See the players leaving the clubhouse and teeing off. There's Francis Ouimet, the old boy himself. Crack! Ouimet drives off. And here's young Johnny Quinn Smack! Away sails the ball. Ouimet and Quinn drive off and other players appear. All are easily recognizable. There's Freddie Wright, Jesse Guilford, Billy Donnelly, Jimmy Hutchinson, Wilfred Crossley, Bill Blaney, Joe Lynch, Emory Stratton, Clark Hodder, Billy McPhail and Leon Emerson. The Crystal Ball is trying to tell us all these players are going to have a good year.

Now the golfers come marching towards us up the fairway. The figures are taking on different sizes. The kids Johnny Quinn, Joe Lynch and Billy Donnelly and Leon Emerson seem to loom larger than the veterans? Does it mean the youngsters are going to take the play away from the veterans in 1931? If we read the Crystal Ball rightly, that is what it says.

How about the Braves, Crystal Ball? How about the Red Sox? Can't you show us something about baseball and what is likely to take place? The Crystal Ball becomes alive with swinging bats, flying balls and racing players. Now they are forming in parade, headed by a band. From out of the ball drifts fairy strains of "In the Good Old Summer Time."

There's a scrap behind the band! Giants, Dodgers, Cardinals and Pirates are all jostling one another. Looks like a free for all. Can't see the Braves anywhere. Aha. Here's a red, sinewy hand holding a scalping knife. Another sinewy red hand reaches out, lifts the hair of a Pittsburgh player. Ouch! They've scalped him! What does that mean? Does it mean the Braves are going to fight it out with the Pirates for fourth place, a berth in the first division? Well, that's better than sixth place, anyhow.

How about the Red Sox, our former Rulers of the Baseball Universe? Here are the Athletics, way, way out in front. Here come the Yanks. Here are the Senators. Here is Cleveland. Where, oh where, are the Red Sox?

Ah! Here they come. Here they come. They are kicking the mud off their shoes and wiping it off their shirts. Thank goodness the Red Sox are out of the Slough of Despond. Out of last place and moving up, anyway. Thank goodness they are not going to finish way down in China, this year.

TRACK SUITS, NOT B. V. D.'S

The Crystal Ball is suddenly filled with fellows in their B. V. D.'s. What's this? What's this? Is somebody going to lose his shirt? Two of 'em come racing across the ball neck and neck. Only a champion track athlete has form and stride like that. These fellows are athletes. Who are they? Looking closer we see the tense fighting faces of Bernie McCaffrey of Holy Cross and Don Fleet of Boston College.

Fleet and McCafffrey are chasing something. Something that flees on ahead, going like the wind. Its an old man with long white beard flowing in the wind. In his hand he carries a card. "440-Yard Record" it says. It's Old Father Time himself. And both Fleet and McCaffrey are closing up on him, both reaching for that card. Apparently the ball is trying to tell us that both Fleet and McCaffrey have a chance of smashing the quarter-mile record in 1931. Here's Leo Lermond, Hal Cutbill, Sam Martin and Eddie Blake. They are going to win a few races, it seems.

Here's a fellow clearing the bar in the pole vault. He has on a crimson shirt. It's Oscar Sutermeister of Harvard. Here's another Harvard athlete flinging his feet in the faces of a flying field. It's Dave Cobb. Looks like Oscar and Dave are going to have a great year on the track. And here's an old familiar face, Clarence De Mar. Gosh is that old bird ever going to stop winning Marathons?

Who is this winsome little miss, all dolled up, in a track suit, just like her big brother. Look at her go! Look at her! Its little Mary Carew of Medford. Looks as if Our Mary was going to smash some more records his season?

What is this, a woodland pool? And is this a water nymph? Yes and no. It's Albina Osipowich. Round her forehead is a laurel wreath. Aha! More swimming triumphs for Albina!

The pool disappears and before us is a tennis court. Two girls are sending the ball back and forth across the net. One we quickly recognize as Sarah Palfrey and the other as Marjorie Morrill. That means a good year on the tennis courts for Sarah and Marjorie, as sure as you're born.

In the background we see the youthful figures of Mianne, Joanna, Polly and Lee Palfrey. It looks like a good year for the whole Palfrey family. And here is Mrs. George W. Wightman, Jr., the former Hazel Hotchkiss. Round about her is a whole flock of young players. Mrs. Wightman is showing one girl how to hold the racquet. She is teaching another the forearm drive. It seems as if, under Mrs. Wightman's tutelage, a whole flock of embryonic tennis stars would be developed here this season.

Who is this coming gliding on the ice and looking for all the world like a Norse fairy? See her glide, leap, spin, pirouette? Who is it. Sonja Heine. No, no, it's Maribel Vinson. Maribel I over in Europe now. Is she going to bring back the Fancy Skating crown?

While we're trying to see what

1931 SPORTS DOINGS AS REFLECTED IN CRYSTAL BALL

IF You Don't Know—

New York and Brooklyn baseball scribes, almost without exception, blamed Dazzy Vance for the failure of the Dodgers to win the National League pennant last season . . . Yet, the official records show the Dazzler to have been the most effective of all big league hurlers during the last campaign . . . Hugo Bezdek, former Penn State football coach, who recently told his fellow mentors a few things that they didn't care to hear, never played baseball . . . But he was once manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates . . . Plans for renewal of horse racing at Rockingham Park next summer aren't progressing very rapidly . . . Unknowns outplayed All-American players throughout the All-East vs. All-West charity grid game in San Francisco last Saturday . . . The greatest of pro football stars, too, are players who never gained much fame in college ranks . . . A sudden death of a horse during or after a race is usually due to an overdose of "dope" . . . College track stars don't receive as much publicity as the football heroes but they have a much more enjoyable career . . . They are allowed to travel all around the country to compete in club meets with all expenses paid . . . The late Percy Haughton rarely appeared on the field during practice when he was football coach at Harvard . . . He would let his assistants handle the men and watch the results from some hidden observatory in the Stadium . . . When he saw something wrong he would bellow out and then find another hiding place.

Harvard Six Wins Over Michigan, 7-0

Buffalo, Dec. 31—Harvard's powerful varsity hockey team swamped Michigan varsity, 7 to 0, at Fort Erie, last night. It was the Crimson's fourth straight victory since the season started. On Thursday afternoon the Cambridge outfit will face McGill University on the same ice.

Coffey Wins Candle-Pin Title Match

J. Coffey of East Boston won the candle-pin championship of the four-day bowling tournament conducted by the New England Bowling Association for the benefit of the unemployed, which ended at the Huntington Club last night. Coffey rolled 589 for five strings. Joe Bonigle hit 574 and H. Beck rolled 568.

Tech Five to Play Lowell Textile

The M. I. T. varsity basketball team will play its first game of the new year on Jan. 7 with Lowell Textile in the hangar gymnasium.

The Beaver hoopmen have already scored a win over the Coast Guard Academy basketeers and hopes to make it two in a row over the Lowell Tech outfit.

New Tech Sextet to Face Huskies

The M. I. T. hockey team has been going through rigid practice sessions at the Arena this past week in preparation for their game with Northeastern at the St. Botolph st. rink on Jan. 7.

In an effort to shake off the losing jinx, Bill Stewart, the Tech coach, has been trying out various new combinations of men in order to gain greater scoring punch. He intends to place a completely revamped team on the ice against the Northeasterners.

Celtics Will Open Season Tomorrow

Boston Celtics, the Hub's new pro soccer eleven, will open against the New Bedford Whalers at New Bedford tomorrow in an exhibition contest which promises to attract a large gathering, it being the only game scheduled in New England on the holiday.

The Hub team was scheduled to open at home last week against the Fall River Club, but weather conditions caused the opening to be delayed.

Bill Tilden, Former Net Champ, Enters Movies

New York, Dec. 31 (US)—William T. Tilden, 2nd, in a letter to Holcomb Ward, chairman of the amateur rule committee of the U. S. L. T. A., announced his retirement from amateur competition.

Tilden has signed a contract to appear in short films for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation, and the fact that the movies will be devoted to tennis automatically disqualifies the former champion from competing under the rules governing amateurs.

The letter signed by Tilden, follows:

"I wish to inform you that I have signed a motion picture contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Film Corp., the terms of which will violate the amateur rule of the U. S. L. T. A. Therefore I am announcing my retirement from amateur tennis to take effect immediately.

"Wishing the game of amateur tennis and the United States Lawn Tennis Association all success in the future and thanking you for many courtesies to me."

Babe Ruth Starts Training for '31

The home run king of the Yankees reported at McGovern's gymnasium, where he played handball, boxed a few rounds and performed abdominal exercises as his preliminary pre-season training. He weighed 233 pounds, his average weight for this time of year. He expects to be down to 220 pounds by Feb. 1, when he will go south.

Artie McGovern, who has supervised Ruth's winter training since 1923, declared the big fellow was in better shape than ever.

Lewis to Finish Training in Boston

Ed (Strangler) Lewis, perhaps the most picturesque figure in the wrestling game, will finish his training in Boston for his bout with Lee Wykoff, former University of St. Louis star, which will be staged by Paul Bowser at the Arena a week from Friday night.

Lewis occupies much the same position in the wrestling game that Jack Dempsey does in boxing and Babe Ruth in baseball. He has the color and sparkle which draw the crowds to the ringside every time he sweeps into action.

Gus Sonnenberg is the only wrestler who has been able to give the Strangler any serious opposition. He has tipped over most other men he has met like nobody's business.

Wykoff has beaten Freddy Meyers, Harry Mamus and John Grandovich in bouts in this city, but he will find he has quite an assignment on his hands when he tackles the Strangler.

Doc Bagley Willing to Wager Roberti Wins by K. O.

By RINGSIDE

Doc Bagley, who first came in for fame as manager of Gene Tunney, believes money talks.

"I have $1000 to wager on Roberti to win by a knockout," piped Doc today. "Roberti has engaged in six bouts in Boston rings and won each of them. Remember the fight he gave Monte Munn? He came up off the floor to win by a knockout. I like those kind of fighters.

"It was the same kind of determination that enabled Tunney to win the championship. In his bout with Harry Greb, Gene took a terrific pasting. But he stuck to his task and eventually battled his way to the title."

It is expected that Santa will take up Bagley's offer to wager $1000. Jose is six feet seven inches tall and weighs 264 pounds. He is as big in confidence as in size.

Santa has shown to advantage in his Boston workouts. He [illegible] he will punch it out with Roberti.

GOOD GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON
"Golf's Greatest Teacher"

In the smooth forward swing the pull that exerts against your left arm as the club-head swings [illegible] downward swing and thus developing its maximum centrifugal pull. That is, it wants to continue going downward [illegible] would if it were not that the limit of your left arm reach has been attained, which arrests it. [illegible] sometimes appears [illegible] hand actually stops and [illegible] the club swings through. It doesn't actually stop, however, [illegible] for a moment [illegible] speeds up [illegible] smooth [illegible] of the swing [illegible] your muscles and [illegible] your wrists must be flexible. You have them firm and still not firm beyond the point of flexibility [illegible] just hold firmly onto [illegible] club and let it swing. Your wrists otherwise will take care of themselves. You can depend on it, they will know what to do.

Chicago, Dec 31 (AP) The sale by the Chicago Cubs of their Reading, Pa. International League farm promises big returns for another Cub farm, the Los Angeles Angels.

Hereafter, the Cubs plan to build up their entry in the Pacific Coast League instead of splitting the annual crop of promising youngsters into two sections—one for Reading and the other for the Angels.

TOM HEENEY TO FIGHT MAX BAER

New York, Dec. 31 (INS) Madison Sq. Garden has dragged Tom Heeney from obscurity to serve as an animated punching bag for Max Baer, the sensational young California heavyweight, in the main event at the Garden on Jan 16.

The old Hard Rock, who was started on the road to the [illegible] graveyard by Gene Tunney in the champion's last fight, has been fighting in the sticks since he was stopped by Vittorio Compolo in Brooklyn on Aug. 15, 1929. Now the rugged old warrior is to be brought back to the spotlight to serve as a trial horse for the latest championship prospect.

Baer made such a hit with the local ring worms in his losing battle with Ernie Schaaf here a week ago Friday that they would turn out to see him fight anybody, and Heeney gladly took advantage of the opportunity to pick up a few kopecks. Johnny Risko was to have been Max's next opponent. Now the plan is to let the Californian practice on Honest Tom's bridgework and then take on Risko.

Baer should beat Heeney easily and probably will knock him out.

Max Schmeling Has 7 Days to Answer

New York, Dec 31. Max Schmeling has seven days to answer the New York Athletic Commission [illegible] ultimatum that Schmeling [illegible] Jack Sharkey here in June or find himself bereft of recognition in this state as the heavyweight king.

In no uncertain terms James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, told Jacobs that Schmeling must keep the promise he made the commission shortly after he won recognition as the title holder by the simple process of claiming foul in his match with Sharkey here last June.

"Peres" to Play St. Catherine's

The crack Pere Marquette [illegible] C. basketball team of South Boston will oppose the St. Catherine's [illegible] five of Charlestown in the South Boston High School hall tomorrow afternoon.

Both outfits are undefeated to date and the winner will have a strong claim to the New England semi-pro court championship.

Included in the St. Catherine's lineup will be Coo, Thompson, Hughes, Kilduff and Dooley, all well known in local basketball ranks.

Bruins Increase Hockey Lead by Win Over Ottawa

The Bruins increased their lead in the American division of the National Hockey League by slapping the Ottawa Senators at the Garden by a score of 7 to 3 while the Chicago Blackhawks were idle.

For two periods [illegible] the final stanza Joe Lamb, enemy bad man, got the natives mad, and they went out and scored four goals in quick order to put the [illegible]

[illegible] Ottawa center, [illegible] scored the first goal of the game late in the first period and after the Bruins had taken a 3 to 1 lead he again put his mates in the running by counting a second one. The Bostonians did all their scoring in the first and last chapters.

Bruins Score Three Times in Two Minutes

After the first Lamb market [illegible] scored three times in two minutes. [illegible] 30 seconds later he put the Bostonians [illegible] down passed to Beattie who passed to Oliver, who scored.

[illegible]

The third Ottawa tally followed soon after. It was made by Touhey and was more or less a Christmas gift on the part of Tiny Thompson.

Lamb played a [illegible] he took [illegible] bad conduct. Rarely have [illegible] fans ever seen such poor sportsmanship as the big center displayed. Every time he was foiled in his attempt to score he tried to "get" some Bruin.

All he received for his trouble were five trips to the penalty box and plenty of good hard smashes from Owen, Shore, Hitch, Beattie and Pratt.

It was evidently the plan of the Senators to arouse Shore [illegible] and have him receive his third [illegible] penalty of the season which would mean a suspension for one game.

All during the first two periods the visitors gave Eddie the works [illegible] He didn't [illegible] eventually and he handed out plenty of legitimate punishment before the game was over.

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

Mr. Boston extends to readers of this column his wish for a happy and prosperous New Year. Members of the sporting department join with Mr. Boston in his expression of good cheer.

"Keep smiling," said the veteran. "You will find that a good disposition gives one the keys to happiness and success.

Mr. Boston

"Business conditions are getting better. Sport events, which were the last to feel the effects of the depression, are once more drawing well. A wrestling bout in the New York Garden on Monday night drew $56,000. Ten thousand persons were unable to gain admittance to the Garden. That hardly looks like hard times.

"At Providence Ed George and John Spellman drew $5100 on Monday night, which is a big gate for that city.

"Don't sell America short. You are fortunate in the fact that you are living in the most prosperous country in the world.

Sheldon Fairbanks Is Back From Europe

"Sheldon Fairbanks, former General Manager at the Boston Garden, has returned from Europe where he opened six miniature golf courses. While many people were afraid to invest money in business this year, Fairbanks opened numerous golf courses and is sitting on the top of the world.

"Ernie Schaaf has agreed to meet James J. Braddock at the Boston Garden on January 9, but Joe Gould has not yet signed for Braddock.

"Farley says he will remain on the job at the office of the Boxing Commission until he clears up the heavyweight wrangle. He insisted that Max Schmeling defend his title against Jack Sharkey in June. Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, has been given until next Tuesday to make known his decision.

"If Schmeling balks at meeting Sharkey, it is likely that the American champion will tackle Primo Carnera in New York in June in a bout which the New York Athletic Commission will allow to be billed as for the heavyweight championship of the world. The show would be staged for the Milk Fund and would draw $1,000,000.

"If Jake Zeramby wins from Johnny Hanlon at Lynn on the afternoon of the holiday, he will get a shot at Andy Callahan's New England lightweight title in this city next month.

"Tom Kanaly of the B. A. A. is getting ready for the opening of the indoor track season. The Unicorn has always been a leader in fostering track sports.

Referee Is Boss in Rhode Island Rings

"The referee gives the decision in boxing and wrestling bouts held in Rhode Island. Edward C. Foster, chairman of the Rhode Island Commission, believes this is a better plan than the one by which two judges and a referee render a verdict. With the referee the sole judge, responsibility is fixed according to Foster, and better decisions are given.

"I understand the special committee which has been investigating wrestling in Massachusetts will recommend that the decisions of the judges and referee be made known from the ringside immediately after a bout ends. This is a step in the right direction.

"Meanwhile keep smiling. Happy New Year!"

Resolve to Live Right in 1931

—By DR. COPELAND—

WHAT DOES the New Year's Day mean to you?

Is it a day of [illegible] of hopeful [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of man that makes him different from the [illegible] animal. He can plan and, having planned, can make his dream come true.

Dr. Copeland

It is natural for one to [illegible] into terms of health [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the country.

One of the comforting [illegible] of today is that the [illegible] conceptions [illegible] and [illegible] of the other days has been thrown into the rubbish heap. They have been discarded by all thinking persons. They did very well in the ignorant past but in 1931 we are more enlightened.

Right living is known now to be more important than all the prescriptions that can be written. Disease and death are defeated by preserving the body, rather than by "curing" it, or repairing it.

There will never come a time when the family physician and the specialist [illegible] will not be [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] their timely advice we [illegible] be turned away from [illegible] that [illegible] harm. Early attention will help them to help us. They are consultants whose services should not be neglected. In this capacity they are really as essential for mankind as they were thought to be when vile compounds and massive dosing were popular.

We should thank Almighty God that we live in 1931, not 1831, 1731 or any other '31. This is a wonderful age. It has given us scientific knowledge of remedial agents, marvelous instruments of precision, undreamed-of manual skill, and mechanical and electrical devices, which mean everything to our physical welfare. It has set our minds at rest, clearing them of superstitions, traditions and silly beliefs.

Let us do our full part this year to live up to the new health knowledge. Good health is largely our individual problem and when it is so considered it will be kept by everybody. Let us face 1931 with a firm and steadfast determination to live rightly.

Answers to Health Queries

Mrs. N. S. N. Q.—What should a woman of 46, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weigh?

A.—She should weigh about 162 pounds. When I give these figures you will understand I am speaking of the average person. If these show you are a few pounds under or a few pounds above this weight you must not feel that fact has any particular significance. The figures, as I have said, indicate merely the average weight as discovered by the examination of a large number of persons.

A CONSTANT READER. Q.—Do you have any special treatment for ringworms? I have been having them for the last two years.

THE KING IS DEAD—LONG LIVE THE KING!

DRAWN BY Nell Brinkley

CHRISTMAS IS the giving time. Not the day when the extremely young New Year arrives are gifts in order with us. In Thessaly the poorest peasant gives a gift "for luck." There are other places in the world where gifts are exchanged, others where debts are religiously paid up (as in China). But here? Here we ASK, not give. Not of each other, but of the new King. We ask greedily, voraciously—for Happiness, Health and Wealth, the greatest treasures in the world. And the King comes in without a visible rag to his back, let alone a treasure trove! Naked, eager, smiling, pleased with the rattle of bells as any other baby is, and carrying a toy hour glass with red sand in it. But somewhere about him, magically, he carries the portent of coveted things, great gifts we hope! We are all "gimmies" on New Year's birthday. The already rich hand, loaded down with plenty, the orchid and diamond hand, is held out for a present, for more; just as the poor little mother's hand, a stranger to many coins, the hand of the patched sleeves, is held out for SOME—just some.

The King of the [illegible] is dead, and the new King is atop of it.

The diamond and orchid hand can get along without our good wishes, but we hope with all our heart that the jewel-less hand gets a Happy New Year all the year 'round!

Baby New Year at the Door Awaiting

By WINIFRED BLACK.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Isn't it glorious—a brand-new year standing on the doorstep waiting for you to open the door and let him in.

A new year without a wrinkle on his forehead or a [illegible] on his hands or a sore place in his gay, friendly, little heart.

Brand new, mind you, nothing shop worn or second hand or "marked down" about him.

Winifred Black

All fresh and hopeful and smiling, won't it be grand to look the world in the face while you are holding him tight by his strong, young, little hands.

Everything that was mean and small and petty and hateful and narrow and spiteful will go.

He wouldn't turn his back on a shabby coat just because it was shabby. He wouldn't judge an honest, brave-hearted woman by the clothes she wore or by the neighborhood where she lived.

He wouldn't flatter and crawl and cajol a rich scoundrel just to grab a few spare dollars for himself.

He wouldn't spend more than he makes just to make a showing.

Let's keep him just what he is for 12 joyous, warm-hearted, kindly, honest, well-meaning and well-acting months.

Come on in, little fellow, the fire is laid on the hearth, the bright candles are set on the table, there's an old-fashioned hassock by the fire for you—you don't need one of the big chairs just yet.

Come in, we want to get acquainted with you, little happy New Year. We want to grow up with you. We are going to make the next 12 months the happiest [illegible] most honest hearted [illegible] months we have ever lived in our lives.

We'll have a brand-new baby in the house, the finest baby that ever brought joy and comfort to any heart-starved household. We're too busy being kind and happy to remember anything that is mean and disheartened under the windswept sky.

Happy New Year!

For the next two hours Wilda roamed the lovely city on her own [illegible] listened to the music in the open square [illegible] revelling in the beauty of the statuary and architecture.

She was the cynosure of many an admiring glance from dark male eyes. "Molta bella!" murmured the driver of a carozza as he saluted her respectfully.

Six days later found our travelers partaking of dinner in the vine-covered patio of an inn that clung to the steep hillside above Monte Carlo.

Mr. Gigi Cortes was their host. And with him he had brought a dark-eyed, good looking Spanish friend whom he presented as the Marquis Arturo Randos y Randos.

"Heavens! Isn't he aristocratic? And so handsome!" Gracie was vividly impressed.

The nobleman appeared to be six or seven years older than Cortes. And—thought Wilda—in every way he was a more attractive young man.

He sat next to her at the dinner table. His conversation and the fluency with which he talked on any subject made him a fascinating companion.

He wasn't vain, as Cortes was, even though he had the appendage of "marquis" to his name.

He was polished, too—but with no "pose," as Cortes had. Blue blood certainly did "tell."

He talked to her of quaint little inns back in his own country. He had traveled a great deal. Had been big-game hunting in Abyssinia recently.

"He has a large income from his Spanish properties, you understand?" Gigi enlightened Wilda's mother. "He is a lucky chap to be so reech and nevaire have to work—like me! And you see he has taken quite a fancy to your daughter."

She squeezed his hand beneath the tablecloth, but it was not of her own infatuation Gracie was thinking at this moment. To be the mother of a "marchioness"—what a triumph!

What is the feminine for marquis in Spanish, Gigi?" [illegible] she, awe-struck.

"M-A-R-Q-U-E-S." He spelled each letter out.

They had cost 1,600 francs, these frail and fluttering garments. There were long loose pants, in polka-dotted red and white, ending in white turnback cuffs below the ankles. This was topped by a white crepe sleeveless jumper.

There was a three-quarter length coat, too, in red and white, which had old fashioned curves, revealed bare arms and was frail as the wing of a butterfly.

She was spending money lavishly. Wilda was frightened when she thought of the enormous inroads that already must be made in their capital.

But there was no means of stopping Gracie, neither would she listen to reason.

Immediately thereafter he had "borrowed" from her. He had lost money in the casino, but he said he'd soon win it back.

She'd got in the habit, too, of slipping thousand-franc notes in Gigi's hand whenever they were setting off to dine anywhere.

And . . . and . . . because he found he couldn't pay his bill the first week in the hotel (it certainly was "high") she had quietly settled the account for him.

That was a little thing to do when, as she told herself, she was in love with him.

Romance! The greatest thing in the world! She wasn't going to be a stingy fool (like her poor dead husband) and miss being loved, and loving . . . !

And [illegible]

She's in Love With Convict

Probe His Record, Says Miss Fairfax

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am facing a horrible proposition that few girls of my age have had to face. I am 21. I was introduced to a young man by a girl and we seemed to attract each other mutually. I have learned to love him deeply. Just recently he has told me that he is an ex-convict. But that is all he told. He did not say what he had done. In spite of this, he is the one for me. We are most congenial, and friends say we would make a wonderful pair. But I am up against a stone wall, since I don't know what he has done. And I he[illegible] to ask him any such question for fear of hurting him, yet I am not afraid to be alone with him.

Beatrice Fairfax

WORRIED.

Dear Worried: When a man confesses he is an ex-convict, it is no time for mealy-mouthed delicacy. What would you think of the common sense of anyone else in your plight?

I beg of you to ask this man about himself and why he was in prison. There's a thousand to one shot that he might have been one of the law's victims but, if he had been, more than likely he would have told you so. I hope if you persist in your imprudent notion of marrying him, that you will get your father, brother, some trusted friend, or your "Legal Aid Society" to investigate his record.

Parents Object to "Company"

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

We're a family of four self-supporting girls; our salaries run the house and provide for our parents, but you'd think we were children, if we have company, particularly young men. As the time goes on, fewer young men care about coming to see us. Either doors are slammed, grumbling comes from the next room, or father stays in the living room and argues. We're fond of our parents, but this can't go on, in fact, it's gone on too long as it is. What would you advise?

"LITTLE WOMEN."

Dear "Little Women": I'd resort to that family remedy known as "a straight talk" and make the parents understand that there must be a change of attitude on their part. It's preposterous that self-supporting girls, who keep the home fires burning, should not be able to see their friends without humiliation. If the "straight talk" doesn't work, you may have to try something else. I hope you'll write me again.

Take This Look Backward; Then Look Forward

Head of National Company Tells What Follows Depression Year

—By B. C. FORBES—

New York, Dec. 31—Let's do a little stock-taking. Let's look back and see what always happened after other depression years. Know[illegible] of the fu[illegible] [illegible] greater [illegible] science, [illegible] enthusiasm.

B. C. Forbes

William B. Joyce, veteran head of the National Surety Company, the greatest of its kind in America, and himself a conspicuously successful business man, briefly and vividly tells the [illegible] in a communication to th[illegible]

"I think [illegible] could do an immense amount of good by pointing out to your millions of readers that the present depression is not a new kind of thing—that we have always had depressions and probably always will.

"It would generate more confidence if it could be pointed out that in 1893 the depression was followed by a prosperity in 1896 on a scale never before known, and that in 1903, 1907, 1914 and 1921 commercial and financial troubles were all followed by a prosperity the world had never before known, and that just as sure [illegible] followed by [illegible] prosperity which will be even greater than ever before.

"The periods of depression, disagreeable and unhappy though they may be, and even with the costly and sad experience, they could be conceivably much worse if they were not experienced as frequently as about every seven or eight years; it would be better if they could occur every two or three years—they would be less damaging.

"At times the people possess a financial revolutionary spirit, and they manufacture goods and send the stock market to absurd heights; then they get into another revolutionary condition and send the prices of goods and securities just as absurdly low as they were previously absurdly high.

"Take this company as an illustration. In 1893 (the depression year) the company (then located in the West) had a capital of $250,000, and a surplus of around $10,000, with assets of $330,000. It went through all the depression periods from 1893 on, and today it has a capital of $15,000,000 and a surplus of $10,000,000, with assets of $15,000,000. Other business institutions of this country, and indeed the nation itself, are more or less in the same improved condition.

"In my opinion it is foolish for so many people to get into such a state of mind as now exists, especially in New York. I have just returned from California, and it looks to me as though 90 per cent of all the pessimism is located on Manhattan Island, and the other 10 per cent is distributed over the balance of the country."

So is a message received from W. H. Gardner of the Caterpillar Tractor Company, Peoria, Illinois.

"GETTING BY—or—GETTING BUYERS.

"These days many a man says to himself: 'Let's hold up on our advertising until things are better!' But the Caterpillar Tractor Co. believes that things never were better for the winning of returns on advertising dollars.

"As you sit down to lay out your advertising budget for 1931, you may be interested in knowing that this year the Caterpillar Tractor Co. is planning to invest more money in sales promotion than ever before.

"We believe that when contemporaries slow down it is easier to get ahead.

"We believe that the greatest results of advertising never come at once—1931 advertising will pay its biggest dividends in the latter years of '32 and '33."

Having looked back, with Mr. Joyce, let us now start looking forward. Intelligent foresight is the key to business success.

Stock 'Change Seat Sells at New Low

Arrangements have been made for the sale of a New York Stock Exchange seat for the sum of $192,000. This represents a decline of $8000 from the last previously reported sale and establishes a new low price for the year.

The previous low for the year was made on December 24, when two seats were sold for $200,000. Since then two additional transactions were announced at the $200,000 level, the last on Monday of this week.

RESOLUTIONS FOR BUSINESS ARE OFFERED

By FRANK H. MELOON

Col. Benjamin A. Franklin, president of Associated Industries of Massachusetts, offers a unique set of New Year's "Business Resolutions," most of which will meet with wide press approval. President Franklin's resolutions for 1931 [illegible]

Benjamin A. Franklin

Try to introduce permanence into employment.

Bring products up-to-date in style, utility and economy.

Introduce most modern machinery and equipment.

Introduce most modern methods of production and management.

Support those associations, trade, national, state or local working in a forward-looking way for the common good.

Consider the other fellow—competitor or worker.

The arrangement seems eminently satisfactory to the first "outside" railroad listed on the Boston Stock Exchange, the Pennsylvania. There is certainly no sign that Pennsy's holdings in the New Haven and the Boston & Maine are to be disturbed.

Hornblower & Weeks' daily market letter issued today says that common stocks listed on the two New York exchanges alone have declined in value more than twice the total of all the Liberty loans subscribed in the World War, and that the present oversold condition of Wall Street provides a [illegible] for predicting that the first quarter of 1931 will be marked by at least a substantial intermediary recovery movement.

"The extent of the deflation of security values on the New York Stock Exchange," they say, "as measured in actual dollars and cents, has reached the amazing total of $40,241,000,000. The deflation appears at this time not only to have eliminated the elements of speculation, but to have abundantly over-discounted any justifiable pessimism generated by poor business conditions.

"The thoughtful cannot but be impressed with the similarity between the Federal Reserve rediscount rate to 2 per cent in the current period of over-pessimism and the rate increase to 6 per cent in the frinzied optimism of August, 1929. The rate increase at that time did not terminate the bull swing, but it certainly proved to have been a belated storm signal. Conversely, we feel that this latest move on the part of the Federal Reserve will anticipate a reversal in the trend of security prices by a similar period but, of course, the recovery will be gradual and tedious, compared to the dramatic collapse of the last year and a half."

Today's News of Live Stocks in Wall Street

Question of appealing injunction which restrains Bethlehem Steel Youngstown Sheet & Tube merger may be considered this week, Pres. Purnell of Youngstown said.

"I don't know whether the decision will be appealed."

Real winner of merger fight is shareholder who sold his Sheet & Tube stock for cash during the proxy battle and kept the proceeds in the bank. Minimum price of $150 a share was paid during the proxy contest. Shareholder who sold at $150 last March could now buy three shares of Bethlehem or two shares of Youngstown and have a surplus at hand. It is estimated that about $3,000,000 of Youngstown stock was sold at these private sales.

Stocks Reflect Merger Agreement

Good effects of the rail consolidation agreement were again seen in the influx of buying orders today for both railroad and industrial shares from the outside points. New York Central, Atchison, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and other good grade rails soon sold about a point higher and Southern Railway was up about 3 points.

Automobile Show Rise Under Way

Shorts Are Trapped in Some Specialties

The shorts were trapped today in Auburn Auto, Case Threshing and other specialties, and prices as a result spurted 2 to 5 points. Year-end house cleaning and "tax" selling in fairly large volume appeared on the tape as "cash sales," usually at fractional concessions in prices.

Newton Steel Orders Larger

Orders received by Newton Steel in the past few weeks have shown increases. As a result, December is likely to be the best month since last May. Any improvement will be due to the placing of more contracts by automobile companies in preparation for early 1931 production.

Newton Steel will show a deficit for the final three months of the year, although it will be smaller than for the three months ended September 30, last. The company is largely dependent upon the automobile industry, and conditions in that line will be clearly reflected in Newton's affairs in 1931.

Some months ago plans were on foot for a merger of Newton with Corrigan McKinney and considerable progress was made. However, that proposal has been called off, leaving Newton free to enter any combination if an opportunity presents itself.

Foster-Wheeler's 1931 Prospects

Although the volume of new business received by Foster-Wheeler has declined in the past few months, inquiries from some industrial and public utility fields recently are said to have shown an increase. Those [illegible] for some improvement in business in 1931. Foster Wheeler will have a smaller carry-over of orders this year, but it is likely that, if general conditions are satisfactory, that will be offset during 1931 by orders which should result from inquiries that have come to hand recently.

Pacific Lighting's Dividend Record

Pacific Lighting has been paying dividends regularly for many years, and has increased the rate from time to time. In addition, stockholders have received valuable rights on various occasions. That has been responsible for investment scale buying in the stock, because it has been obtainable to yield around 6 per cent.

The company does the entire gas business in Los Angeles and controls practically all the gas business of Southern California. It also furnishes a large part of Los Angeles with electricity.

Better Support in United Aircraft

Banking interests affiliated with United Aircraft are extending more aggressive support to their erstwhile favorite. This demand, however, is not evident on the rallies but makes its appearance only on the dip. Current buying, consequently, is regarded more as "long pull" accumulation. In so far as the immediate outlook is concerned, there is little in the affairs of the company to warrant any immediate market response. Those actively identified with the management of the company, however, are said to be more favorably impressed with the "long pull" outlook.

SHARE PRICES UP ON YEAR'S FINAL DAY

The security markets lifted quietly, as though ridded of a mighty burden. The past 12 months have largely cured the stock market of its fevers of excessive enthusiasm.

HOPES ON FIRMER BASIS

The turn of a new year engenders fresh hope. In view of the enormous deflation accomplished, Wall Street feels that its hopes rest on a firmer basis than those of a year ago, when it was still deluded with "new era" theories of economics.

The completion of tax selling, the prospect of a fair reinvestment demand from the $1,000,000,000 in Jan. 1 interest and dividends, together with somewhat more favorable than expected mid-week business statistics, helped the advance in share prices, which embraced virtually all sections of the list.

Shares advancing 2 to 4 points included U. S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric, Bethlehem Steel, Air Reduction, Eastman, American Power and Light, American Telephone, Stone & Webster, Borden, American Smelting, Union Pacific, New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern and Lackawanna.

Auburn surged up more than 8. Trading turned dull after the first hour.

COVERING IN RAILS.

The advance in the rail shares which greeted the announcement of the four-party eastern unification plan appeared to have been largely due to hasty short covering, but Wall Street continued to regard the development as one of the most constructive of 1930, and carrier issues were firm again today.

Steel issues were helped by expectations of a seasonal pickup in ingot production in January, possibly carrying operations up to 50 per cent of capacity. Even the oils were firm, although the week's petroleum statistics showed another large gain in gasoline in storage.

Some bankers fell that the new year is started with an excess of pessimism, comparable to the unwarranted optimism of a year ago, but they acknowledge that this may tend to prevent discouraging false starts toward recovery.

So far as the stock market is concerned, brokers point out that, even with fair improvement in the early part of 1931, corporate earnings will fall below the early months of 1930, so that comparisons will be unfavorable, and that dividend reductions, which are most numerous at the fag end of a depression, should tend to prevent any excesses of bullishness.

STATE STREET SIDELIGHTS

While State Street is greatly cheered by the seeming progress toward an amicable settlement of the four-way rail plan, the main topic in board rooms is the probable action of the motor and accessory shares.

Astute observers, however, say that if the stocks do not move up with the opening of the New York show it will be wise to unload long positions.

Two low-priced accessory companies, Briggs and Borg Warner, are expected to do well by many traders. The favorable dividend action of the former is construed as reflecting an optimistic future expected by the directors, while the latter's exclusive right to the manufacture of parts for the free-wheeling device under Studebaker patents is expected to supply an important source of revenue in the near future.

The leading rubber shares are reported as under accumulation by interests who base their purchases on reasons other than the hoped-for increase in new car sales.

It is their contention that raw rubber is selling at prices that may be considered as rock bottom and that the manufacturers are certain to have a good year because of replacements, if demand of motor car manufacturers does not materialize.

Air Reduction is well to the front in the lists of those traders who believe that the chemical industry will be well to forefront of any upward move in the next year.

It is argued that the halt in the earnings is but temporary and that the company as the largest producer of oxyacetylene welding apparatus and materials will benefit from any improvement among the steel working industries.

$1,000,000 Deal in Maine Power Field

Maine Public Utilities Commission authorized Bangor Hydroelectric Co. to acquire Penobscot Power Co. from Advance Bag & Paper Co. in transaction involving about $1,000,000. Paper company will purchase all its power from utility which will build 7500 horsepower development on paper company's site.

Nashua Bonds Are Awarded in N. Y.

Nashua, N. H., awarded to Stephens & Co., N. Y., at 99.337, $100,000 4¼ per cent Permanent Highway Improvement Bonds dated Jan. 2, 1931, and payable 1932 to 1951. Other bidders were: First National-Old Colony Corp., 99.07 and Harris, Forbes & Co., 98.17.

WILL USE SURPLUS

W. W., Brookline—I depend for a living mostly on income from securities. The steady decline in Southern Railway, of which I own 25 shares, has caused me much worry. Do you think the dividend can be continued?

Ans.—In a recent statement the president of Southern Railway said he expected the present common dividend would be maintained in spite of decreased business, unless conditions became more alarming. Earnings so far this year were sufficient to cover operating expenses and preferred dividend requirements but not enough for any payment on the common. However, income from investments probably would equal about 5 per cent, and the management planned to dip into previous years' earnings to make up the difference. Net income in 1929 was equivalent to $11.65 a share, compared with $12.63 for 1928. The current $8 rate has been paid from February, 1928. From February, 1926, the rate had been $7; from May, 1924, $5. Any comment on the market position of the stock would be valueless.

STOCKS FOR INCOME

J. M., Malden—I am unmarried and have $5000 in a savings bank. Would you consider it foolish to use about $1500 or $2000 for speculation in stocks?

Ans.—Advice to speculators is not part of the service we render. But don't let us scare you if you are on a hunt for profits. On the other hand, you could get an annual income of $120, or 6 per cent, on an expenditure of a bit less than $2000 for 10 shares American Water Works & Electric first preferred and 15 Standard Gas & Electric $4 preferred. Buying stocks that pay regular dividends, protected by good earnings, usually is more satisfactory, in the long run, than attempting to guess future prices.

IRREGULAR RECORD

M. K., Medfield—I have noticed your advice to others. What do you think of a purchase of Vanadium for investment?

Ans.—Vanadium oCorporation is speculative, because of irregular dividend record. Following a lapse of three years, payments were resumed in August, 1925; current $4 dividend distributed from May, 1926. In the past four years stockholders have received an extra of $1 a share, but nothing extra has been paid so far this year. Net income for 1929 equaled $4.91 a share, compared with $4.55 in 1928; in the first six months of current year, $3.30 a share, against $3.13 in first half of 1929. Volume of business depends very largely on operating schedules of steel and automobile industries.

A POOR RECORD

N. G., Cambridge—I am a reader of your column and shall appreciate advice. What do you think of a purchase of Chicago Great Western preferred?

Ans.—Chicago Great Western $4 preferred is a speculation. A payment of $1 a share to be distributed January 7 to stockholders of record December 7 will be the first distribution since July 1, 1919. Unpaid accumulations on October 1, 1930, amounted to 58 per cent. For 10 months ended October 31, earnings applicable to the stock were $2.44 a share, compared with $2.15 for first 10 months of last year. Net Income in 1929 was equivalent to $2.62 a share; in 1928, $1.98 a share. Why don't you consider something better grade? What is the extent of your capital?

A SOUND STOCK

Miss L. D., Belmont—I own $1000 each Prudence Co. 5½s and New York Title & Mortgage 5½s, bought on your advice. What is your idea of buying General Electric.

Ans.—General Electric has paid dividends on the common stock for more than 27 years. The rate on the present stock, issued in 10-for-one split, January, 1930, is $1.60 a share. For nine months ended September 30 earnings were $1.47 a share; in full year 1929, $2.24, against $1.79 in 1928 and $1.60 in 1927. At recent levels the yield was less than 4 per cent. Withdrawing money from a savings bank to buy stocks that pay less looks unbusinesslike. The bonds you own already are sound.

MUST DECIDE

Ans.—Because your problem is speculative, you must make the decision. A sale of Congoleum-Nairn now would mean a loss of approximately $2300. If you keep the stock there is no assurance you could get what you paid for it. The company is a large manufacturer of felt-base floor covering, but no dividends have been paid on the common stock since 1925. It is a sheer speculation. Net income for six months ended June 30 was equivalent to 40 cents a share. In 1929 earnings were $1.20, against 83 cents in 1928 and 58 cents in 1927.

SEEKS A PROFIT

M. I., Boston—While looking over a list of stocks that show a precipitate decline from higher levels, I selected Chrysler. What do you think of a purchase?

Ans.—Apparently, you are on a hunt for profits. In that case, we can be of no assistance. Because of unsatisfactory earnings, directors recently put Chrysler on a $1 annual basis, contrasted with the $3 rate maintained from second quarter of 1926. The company is the third largest automobile manufacturer in the country and is in a strong financial position, but buying stocks on their chances for an advance is a gamble.

INVEST ONLY HALF

L. A., Roslindale—I am a working man and have saved $2,000 which I want to invest. What do you suggest?

Ans.—Though a reserve of $2,000 cash in the savings bank is not too much under present economic conditions, if you want to invest half your fund, get $1,000 Lawyers' Title & Guaranty 5s. The annual income is $50. They are guaranteed as to principal and interest.

THROUGH the generosity of the public we are able day by day to relieve want and distress, and help the needy to self-dependence.

In 1930, with larger resources entrusted to us, we were able to reach more people. We take this means of thanking those friends, old and new, who made this possible. We also extend, both to those who have helped us carry on our work and to those who as yet have not experienced the joy of giving,

West Pointers Can't Fly

Congress Won't Let Them

The American people take it for granted that West Point is the finest military school in the world.

In facilities for training its students in modern warfare, however, it is forty or fifty years behind the time.

It has no adequate camp sites, no large maneuver grounds, no modern infantry or artillery ranges, and—incredible as it may seem—no airplane landing field.

The modern soldier must know how to march, to shoot and to fly.

West Pointers lack space in which to march, shoot and fly, and until they are given that space, instead of their present cramped grounds, their training program must remain a good deal of a joke.

The military academy is doing its best with the room at its disposal, but it manifestly cannot train the 1250 cadets enrolled there on a reservation designed years ago to accommodate 300.

Of the aviation deficiencies, General J. E. Fechet, chief of the Army Air Corps, writes:

"The present area of West Point has been carefully inspected with a view to locate a landing field, but there is none available."

General John J. Pershing writes:

"Our experiences in the World War clearly demonstrated the necessity for training officers in aviation. If West Point is to continue to fulfill its mission of preparing its graduates for emergencies . . . the special training required must be provided."

This is putting it conservatively. The plain facts are that, twelve years after the World War, Congress has inexcusably failed to provide flying instruction at the nation's chief military school, and that for this breach of duty the nation holds Congress responsible.

A measure, however, is now before Congress to purchase 15,000 acres, adjoining the reservation, which will give the academy the space it needs. It is sponsored by Representative Frank W. James, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee. It will permit real instruction in all forms of modern warfare, including aviation, which is the most important form.

Training for warfare is the academy's business, and the people of the United States want that business properly carried out.

They will pay to see that it is carried out, and they will accept no excuse if it is not carried out.

Congress therefore should pass the James bill promptly and without quibbling. Twelve years' delay cannot be prolonged much longer.

Education and Democracy

Some Thoughts in President Lowell's Splendid Plan

Harvard moves forward, socially and educationally.

His resolution in this matter should bring him as much comfort as anything he has achieved in his long and useful life.

There is but one menace to his plan, as we see it. That is that these students who hold the promise of future leadership in our State and Nation may be purposely educated to the philosophy of those who contribute the funds.

Wealth recognizes the value of education. It knows the worth of having well-trained collegemen come into the world of politics and public service steeped in the philosophy of property rights but illy equipped by education or disposition to contend for the simple human rights of the public as a whole. That is the especial reason why so many corporations have contributed "chairs" and courses to our American colleges.

President Lowell has been quite liberal in permitting his professors to teach all sides of these vital questions in the past. Without it "education" would have been worthless. And we must freely accept his record of liberality as the best barrier possible against any abuse of his new system of free education for young men whose knowledge and progressiveism the country surely will need.

Wisdom and Age

Bishop Lawrence's Notable Career

Bishop William Lawrence will be 81 years old in 1931. "His eye is not dim, nor his natural force abated." Many noble enterprises mark his past. His vigor is little abated. His lasting monument will be the creation of a pension fund for aged clergy, which under his business acumen is now a great success in the Episcopal Church.

The bishop has shown a keen business judgment in many of his enterprises as well as being a tower of strength in clerical matters. He has raised millions of dollars for education, instanced in the way that he solved a difficult problem for Wellesley College, Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, and other institutions.

He knows how to make wisdom keep pace with age. He has solved one of the most difficult chapters in the art of living.

LOOK FORWARD -:- -:-

By Nelson Harding

Leafless is the tree in Winter,
Rising from the frozen landscape,
Standing with its barren branches
Stark against a cloudy background.

But we know the meagre season
Does not stay with us forever—
We know Spring will clothe the branches
With a new, abundant verdure.

Listen, World! A New Year

By ELSIE ROBINSON

A Prayer to the Father

Elsie Robinson

FATHER—
I face another year today—
My thoughts now on the days that are no more,
Now turning to the untried days ahead—
There are so many things I'd like to say.

I'd like to say, "The dead past is quite dead.
Today you start anew—unhampered—free—
Free from the blunders of yesterdays;
Free from old lies and laziness and fear
And all the scoreof your stupidity—
The debts are cancelled, the account is closed;

I'd like to say that, God—you know how much;
But this you also know—it can't be done!
The past is never dead—we're never free
From our old folly and its consequences;
We cannot shake the shackles that we forged;
We can't escape the harvest that we sowed.

Life is not hopeless—men can live and learn,
Can make their choices, build a heaven or hell,
But for each choice there is a price to pay,
And certain obligation to be borne . . .
We still must limp, though we have grown wings!

And so I know I can't start fresh today,
Nor cut my future free from all my past.
I must go, patched and tattered, scarred and soiled
By all the mishaps of my wanderings.

So help me make the best of what I have!
Give me the patience to endure my limp
When I see others racing, light of heel;
Give me humility to stand my stains;
When I see cleaner lives pass by, unmarred,
Give me the honesty to face my debts,
And pay each nagging, shameful reckoning
Without self-pity or an envious snarl
At happier souls who have no debts to pay.

Above all, Father, give me cheerfulness,
So others, watching, may feel life's worth while—
No matter what the price or penalty—
And give me, too, such courage and good sense
That I may not forget that fact myself!

This is my prayer as now I face the year—
Will You, who made life such an uphill job,
Help me, who did not always make the grade?

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

The March of the Shop Girls

NEW YORK, Dec. 31—West 42d st. around 9 a. m. has the effervescent surge of rare wine. It is the hour when the clerical musketeers and stenographers, so fair, so young, march across town from Grand Central to shops, stores, offices. Everybody is gay and life seems a gag.

No yowling here though the way be weary and the going rough. Even the crossing cop's smile is cheerier. The white wing whistles. The whole tempo is quick, fluent. Hail, hail, the gang's all here. New York may droop and drag home in the evening, but it skips to work, sniffing the winds of romance.

In the parade are young men who make a better appearance on $35 a week than the rich bloods with charge accounts at the avenue tailors. They know all the newest wise cracks. They can make a 55 cent tie from an auction cart shame a Charvet creation of the Place Vendome.

The young ladies, too, frocked in their basement bargains are more smartly attired than the debutante flapper. They may chew gum and carry tabloids, but there is something imperious in their manner that suggests the pampered show girl. And they indulge in no cheap flirtations.

These are supremely fortunates who are not concerned with revolt against tyranny. They have instead created their own world of illusion—a world peopled with such dream gods and goddesses as Rudy Vallee, John Barrymore, Katharine Cornell and the great Greta Garbo.

For a block away you can hear the dainty staccato tick, tick, tick of high heels on the thick glass of sidewalks. It is a swift kaleidoscope cut of life I never tire of watching. It is the one New York phenomenon that will rout me out of bed before noon.

No other class of workers moving along Manhattan streets display such energy and verve. When they suddenly erupt on sidewalks in the morning roar, it is like a torch falling into resinous shavings—a spark, a splutter and a quick, racing flame.

Two chorus men in a current show are programmed as Oxford Hall and Townley Chambers, which sounds like a slice of apartments from upper Riverside Drive.

* * *

A rumor persists two Long Island misses from social register families wound up a numb night in a 14th street tatoo salon. Necklaces with bird clasps were tatooed on their swan-like necks, and they are now under treatment of plastic surgeons in Paris in hope of being de-tatooed.

* * *

A new hotel offered the town's most expensive apartment—the top floor at $80,000 or some such silly figure. No tenants were trampled in the rush and it is now a successful breakfast club. But at one-fourth the rental figure.

* * *

Bestowing the name Fifi upon otherwise estimable young ladies seems a panache that gives them annoying self consciousness—a deliberate flair for showing off. In my time I have known five Fifis—four here and one abroad. Each was good looking but obsessed with a notion they must be a hoydenish harem-scarum and always in the spotlight. On the other hand I know of no name that inspires such a becoming calm and old fashioned dignity as Beth. I know several Beths and all, while utterly self-effacing, are types you remember pleasantly.

* * *

There are girls, too, whose beauty is like bright thrusts of lightning that flash in sombre sky and are seen no more. You see them illuminate Broadway heavens and somehow forget. With no effort to be mean-tempered I think of Lois Moran, Ona Munson, Helen Shipman, Ann Andrews, Margolo Gilmore and three others whose names I cannot even recall. All are gloriously beautiful but to me strangely evanescent.

It may be a freak coincidence but in a New York paper this morning I read an editorial that Italy was the only European country that never developed a taste for strong cheese. And later today at the news-reels was a riotous welcoming street demonstration for the prize fighter, Primo Carnero in Milan.

Mussolini Salute, Chaplin Moustache

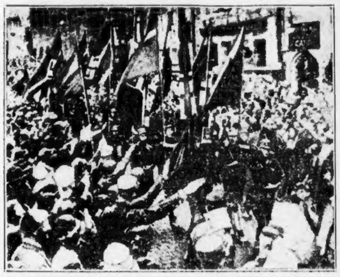
A Strange Combination of Hitler's, "German Fascisti"

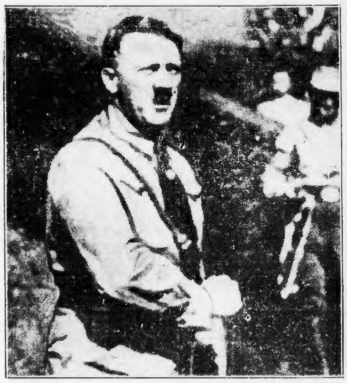


A MUSSOLINI SALUTE FOR THE GERMAN NAZI FLAG

These three pictures illustrate the extraordinary growth of a new party in Germany, modelled on Mussolini's marvelous achievement in Italy.

The idea of the Nazis, or German Fascists, led by Herr Adolf Hitler, is to get away from the German Republic, suppress the Communists that also attack the Republic, and to take possession of Germany's government.

The Nazi party has grown marvelously; from a little group of fewer than a dozen men, it has become almost overnight to a party of six million.



HITLER, THE LEADER, AND MOUSTACHE

He probably hopes, as does his father in Holland, that this movement of dissatisfied young Germans will bring the Hohenzollerns back to power.

But Germany, educated by the Social Democratic party for the past sixty years, will probably escape that misfortune.

THE EX-KAISER'S SON LOOKS ON

It has been truly said, by those that have observed the salute of the German Fascisti, and the face of their leader, Hitler, the German Fascist party combines "The salute of Mussolini and the moustache of Charlie Chaplin."

However, regardless of this rather ridiculous little moustache, close-cropped to fit the size of his nose, Hitler has accomplished wonders, and formed a powerful party.

There are no accidents in a world, and there must be power combined with that little moustache.

Capital Silhouettes

By GEORGE R. BROWN

MUSSOLINI will dodgast a few remarks in the general direction of the United States on New Year's afternoon, and anybody who feels that he wasn't adequately bawled out just before Christmas should tune in.

IT'S UNDERSTOOD that the official archives destroyed when the North Dakota Capitol burned can't be replaced until the Farmer-Labor party holds its next convention and adopts another set of resolutions for reforming the govern ment.
